March Into Reading!

Discover. Learn. Inspire.

Welcome to March Into Reading!

Your local community has many opportunities for you to discover, learn, and grow! This booklet will help you explore your national parks, state parks, and libraries. To participate in the March Into Reading Program, simply document three books you have read related to nature, history, or wildlife from a participating library. Explore the rest of this booklet's pages for a recommended reading list by librarians, cut-out bookmarks, activities, and a certificate! We hope to see you in person at each of these sites someday!

Special thanks to the staff at the Spartanburg County Public Library for creating a list of library book suggestions for this program!
