The Charles W. Morgan

During her 38th Voyage, the Charles W. Morgan will dock at the Charlestown Navy Yard in Boston, Massachusetts, July 18-22, 2014. The last wooden whaleship in the world will be berthed next to USS Constitution and will be open for the public to board.

Take the opportunity to explore the 19th-century vessel, learn more about the Morgan, whales, and whaling in the 22,000 square-foot dockside exhibition. Find out how Mystic Seaport shipwrights restored the National Historic Landmark vessel and made her seaworthy for this voyage. Watch as Mystic Seaport interpreters demonstrate the 19th-century maritime skills of a cooper, shipsmith, and ropemaker, or interact with a costumed roleplayer from 1876 and listen to live music and sea chanteys from Mystic Seaport's chantey staff. This is an exciting, one-time event that is not to be missed!

Stop in the Boston National Historical Park Visitor Center to learn the history of the Charlestown Navy Yard, take a walking tour with a National Park Service Ranger, discover what it takes to be a Navy sailor with hands on activities at the USS Constitution Museum and get out on the water with whaleboat and sailing activities at Courageous Sailing Center.
