Lourdes.—The cure of Gerald Baillie, a s year-old boy who has been totally blind for five y has been disclosed by Dr. Fran eure, preside the Lourdes Medical bureau.

The boy was brought to Lourdes on a pilgri by his mother in September, 1947. He had been su ing from double atrophy of the eyes and conti degeneration of the retina. While saying the Sta of the Cross, Gerald instantaneously recovered his sight, according to Dr. Leure.

Last July the boy's mother brought him back to Lourdes from his home in St. Pol for another examination. A British eye specialist, who was visiting Lourdes at the time, discovered the "astonishing fact" that the lesions and atrophy which had caused the blindness were still there, but the boy could see, nevertheless.

Bishop John J. Wright, Auxiliary of Boston, announced Dr. Leure's findings to a group of 600 American pilgrims who were visiting Lourdes under the leadership of Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston.

The boy's recovery of his sight has not been recognized as ulous by the Church auth because such recognition is no cure until a year after cure. He will undergo a medical examination in S ber, and the findings will sented to an ecclesiastica mission for consideration.

Mission Crusade Brands

Public Enemy No.

Notre Dame, Ind. More than 3,600 delegates to the 13th national conference of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade left after the four-day convention firmly convinced that secularization rather than Communism offers the deadliest threat to the United States.

The majority of the 110 speakers who addressed this meeting at Notre Dame university, the largest missionary meeting ever held in this country, emphasized that secularization, the elimination of God and morality from American life, was inviting the destruction of America.

In a series of resolutions passed at the conclusion of the sessions, secularization was named the principal target of the Catholic college students. A program to be known as the Philosophers' Apostolate will "study the fundamental errors underlying present social and political disorders, which are errors of thought."

The aim of the apostolate is "to encourage the public declaration of right principles and Christian philosophy in opposition to errors now current in the fields of higher
