Sword, James <james_sword@nps.gov>

Fwd: Coming up on Forum this morning: Is the Bay Area Too Dog Friendly?

1 message

Picavet, Alexandra <alexandra_picavet@nps.gov> Wed, Jul 10, 2013 at 8:15 AM
Bcc: James_Sword@nps.gov

I just thought you would be interested in this story. It is the first hour of Forum.

As we are waiting for approval to print the long awaited Supplemental to the DEIS for the Dog Management Plan, this will be an interesting story to hear the community chime in on. We are not, and were not asked, to participate. This is just letting you know it is out there.
Alex Picavet
Public Affairs
Golden Gate National Recreation Area

http://www.kqed.org/radio/programs/forum/

Coming up on Forum:

WED, JUL 10, 2013 -- 10:00 AM

Is the Bay Area Too Dog Friendly?

The Bay Area is known for being a dog-loving region, but has our canine adoration reached an unhealthy level? Dogs now accompany us into grocery stores, cafes, and even offices, but some argue that we're excessively spoiling our dogs at the expense of others. We discuss whether our region really has a dog-coddling problem.

Sent from iPhone, please excuse typos and made up words my phone inserted.
Alexandra Picavet
Public Affairs Specialist
415-786-8021