J.F.K.'S family helped him to be a great leader. J.F.K was smart, trustworthy and kind. He was popular around school.

J.F.K's family taught him to never give up because his dad said to lack first is better than second. His mother went to church everyday because she didn't think church was only for Sundays. She said it was for everyday. J.F.K. had 8 brothers and sisters he was the second oldest the oldest was Joe. J.F.K.'s family helped him become a smart and amazing president.

My mom helps me get better at things and she tell me to never give up. When I was in second grade I didn't like math but my mom told me to not give up and now I love it. J.F.K. has taught me to never give up and to be brave.
