What JFK Means to Me

Rosalind Levine
3D

John Fitzgearld Kennedy was the second oldest of nine children. He was a hero in World War II. Once he saved a man's life when his boat was broken in half by a Jappennese destroyer. Two men were killed instantly one was ingured. J.F.K. and his crew swam to the closest island. The ingured man could not swim so J.F.K. carryed him on his back. The island was five miles away. On the island they met two natives. J.F.K. carved a cocunut shell with a message which he gave the native. The natives brought it to another PT boat which came and rescued them. After the war J.F.K. got into politics and became president.

My opinion of J.F.K is that he was a good leader who cared about his people and their

John Fitzgearld Kenndey started the Peace Corps, an orginization that helps people around the world. Volenters go to a third world countrey and help build schools and other things that the countrey needs. John Fitzgearld Kenndey sopported Civil Rights and tried to get everybody eiqual rights. John Fitzgearld Kenndey helped homelss and hungrey people. He passed laws to give them shelter and food

I choose to write about how John Fitzgearld Kenndey was a good and caring leader because without him there might still be segrgation and nothing would be different from the way it was then. I think J.F.K. did a lot for the would.