What J.F.K Means to Me

William Kent Drury
May 20, 2014

I think John Fitzgerald Kennedy was a very brave man. One reason I feel this way is because on December 7, 1941 JFK was patrolling in his Navy boat the PT 109, when suddenly a Japanese destroyer sliced right through the PT 109. The ship was about to sink so JFK told them to swim. One man was too burned to swim so JFK beled on to the man's strap with his teeth and swam. I would be scared to death if that happened to me.

Another reason I think JFK was a very brave man is that when he was president black people were still protesting to be treated egally and people were arresting them. JFK stood up for them. I think that was brave because alot of people would be mad at him. Lastly JFK stood up to the Russians during the Cuban Missile Crisis. JFK told Russia to take the missiles away from Cuba because they were going to fire them at the U.S.A.

That is why I think JFK was a very brave man. When I grow up I hope to be like him.