Who was John Fitzgerld Kennedy

Lucie Bean
May 16, 2011
3D

Did you know John Fitzgerald Kennedy was the thirty-fifth president, sorry I don't want to be such a bore. Here is a fun fact... Did you know J.F.k got stranded on a islan and carved a message into a coconut with a knife! In my opinion J.F.k faced many problems but all those problems helped him become a president.

One problem that J.F.k faced was his father. His father always wanted him to be the best at everything he did J.F.k's solution was to work harder and harder. Another problem that JFk faced was his brother, Joe. His brother Joe always bullied him. J.F.k's solution was thinking before agreeing.

Who was John Fitzgeald kenneay

The last problem that J.F.K faced was he was always Sick. This thaught him to get out of this world and get into a new one by reading. Reading taught him many vaulable things about the world.

I chose to write about J.F.K.'s Childhood because in my opinion it really got JFK prepared for President and it also gave J.F.K. a lot of personality. He is meaingful to me because he was a amazing president and he had imagineation just like I do today. He also taught me to be brave, courages, strong, and to stand up for my self. That is my opinion about J.F.K.