A variety of educational programs are offered year round on site and off site for community schools and youth groups. A lecture series is offered year round, entitled “Explore Alaska Series” which offers programs on a variety of topics such as adventuring in Alaska, public land area recreation opportunities and other Alaskan themes of special interest. Native and local artist demonstrations are offered once a month as part of the community First Friday events. These programs give children and adults the chance to explore Alaskan subjects through a variety of games, activities and learning adventures.

The Fairbanks Alaska Public Lands Information Center also offers scheduled films, special events, and family programs offered throughout the year. Call to be added to our monthly flyer mailing list. Come in from the cold and enjoy films about the gold rush, dog mushing, “Leave No Trace”, or a variety of other topics!

FAPLIC is pleased to announce the grand opening of our future home at the Morris Thompson Cultural and Visitor Center (MTCVC) in the summer of 2009!

The Morris Thompson Cultural and Visitors Center will be the gateway to experiencing the grandeur of Interior Alaska. This one-stop facility will introduce visitors to our land and the people who live here and will inspire visitors to go out and explore all that Fairbanks and the Interior has to offer. It will be a community gathering place, where diverse cultures come together to learn to understand, appreciate and respect one another.

The Center will be located on the banks of the Chena River in downtown Fairbanks and will house:

- Alaska Public Lands Information Center (APLIC),
- Fairbanks Convention and Visitors Bureau (FCVB) , and the
- Tanana Chiefs Conference (TCC) and Denakkanaaga’s cultural and education programs.
