First Friday @

Alaska Public Lands Information Center

Friday, January 2nd from 5:00 - 8:00

Matt Moberly, resident of Fairbanks for 38 years, has enjoyed painting for 3 years and was self-taught through our local library for the 1st year, then studied with Tom Nixon. Matt reflects that he paints rather intuitively most of the time, based on color, value and tones. He enjoys rendering Alaskan landscapes and hearing someone say "I've been there!" Please join us for refreshments and celebrate Matt's work.

Lisa Rogers Peter, with Tundra Walker Studios, will showcase her new Salmon canvas, as well as her Alaskan Honey, Underground Chocolates, and Folding Cards. Lisa will be hosted by our partner, Fairbanks Convention and Visitors Bureau.

The Morris Thompson Cultural & Visitor Center is the new home of the Alaska Public Lands Information Center, Fairbanks Convention & Visitors Bureau, Alaska Geographic, Denaakanaaga, and Tanana Chiefs Conference Cultural Programs.

101 Dunkel St., Suite 110
Fairbanks, AK 99701

Special Events January 2009

Outdoor Forum Events:

Saturday, January 3

10am - 1pm: Outdoor Ropes and Rigging for Youth seminar with outdoor enthusiast, Jason Faris.

Friday, January 16th

6:30pm: Classic Film Evening with Zane Grey, whom has written many novels on his early fishing adventures. Also showing classic fishing film from 1954 based in Cabo Blanco, Peru.

Friday, January 30th

6:30pm: Classic Adventure Travel Film from the 1960s with Gordon Eastman up the Alcan Highway through British Columbia and the Yukon Territory. His travels were spent with Athabasca people making traditional moose hide freighting canoes and traveling hundreds of miles in them. This film is educational and historic in nature as well as some of the best 16mm footage ever produced.

Stay tuned for more Outdoor Forum events throughout the year!
