

Eugene O'Neill Commemorative in Danville

The Eugene O'Neill Foundation unveiled the commemorative during the Sixth Annual Eugene O'Neill Festival in September 2005, in the park across the street from the Danville Library (400 Front St.)

Design by Michael Manwaring

The centerpiece is a bronze sculpture of a passage from O'Neill's famed play Long Day's Journey Into Night.

Bordering the sculpture are eight pedestals, each of which is topped with the open pages of a playbill. They contain photos and information about O'Neill and his plays.

