

Teacher Workshop

For teacher-led school programs

Place: Fort Tilden/Jacob Riis Park Bathhouse

Title: Introduction to Barrier Beach Habitats

Time: Sunday, October 25, 2009, 10a.m.-1p.m.

The Rockaway Peninsula barrier beach habitats offer the opportunity for exciting investigations of the physical and natural worlds. This dynamic resource is an excellent place to study the relationship between the environmental factors of this area and how they influence the adaptations evolved by plants and animals. After completing the workshop educators can schedule a teacher-led program where students in grades K-8 can explore the barrier beach at Fort Tilden. Upon completion of the workshop the teacher will be responsible for leading the class and ensuring chaperone participation.

Education Program Reservation Form

Teacher Name: _____
School: _____ Region: _____
Address: _____
City: _____ State: _____ Zip Code: _____
School Phone: _____ Home Phone: _____
Grade: _____ Number of students: _____
E-Mail _____

Class Trip Date Requests

1st choice _____ 2nd choice _____ 3rd choice _____

Introduction to Barrier Beach Habitats Workshop

Sunday, October 25, 2009 10am-1pm

Download the registration sheet if you are interested in booking a school group for fall 2009.

Mail to: Attention: JBU Education Staff
 Gateway NRA
 Floyd Bennett Field, Bldg 69
 Brooklyn, New York 11234

Fax to: 718-338-3560

E-Mail to: jennifer_wolff@nps.gov