Projects & Partners 2012

1. Sheridan Trails Sheridan Community Land Trust

The Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance program is looking for new opportunities to work with communities in Wyoming. We can work with towns, counties, non-profits, and other agencies that want to collaboratively strive towards creating great outdoor recreation and conservation projects for the people of Wyoming.

Recent Successes

Wyoming Youth Congress makes stronger connections between youth, families, and the great outdoors

The third Wyoming Youth Congress was held in Jackson with great results. The event brought together kids from around the State to examine ways to create stronger connections between Wyoming's youth and families with the incredible natural and cultural resources that are found throughout the State. The Congress was again hosted by the Teton Science Schools with support and assistance from members of the WY Outside group that was created with the help of the Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance program. The RTCA program will continue to work with WY Outside investigating opportunities to hire a young person to coordinate the group's activities and help implement more on-the-ground successes.

ABOUT US

The Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance (RTCA) Program is the community assistance arm of the National Park Service. RTCA staff provides technical assistance to community groups and local, state, and federal government agencies working to protect natural areas and water resources and enhance close-to-home outdoor recreation opportunities. We help communities plan, organize partnerships, and achieve on-the-ground success on projects they initiate.

We're Here For You.
