

Katie and Robert Dougal Transcript Summary

[0:00:00] Beginning of military service to shortly before coming to Alaska

[0:04:35] Coming to Alaska and job in Kiska

[0:08:12] Purpose of radar on Kiska

[0:11:15] Living conditions on Kiska and lack of preparedness for conditions encountered

[0:17:30] Location of radar station on Kiska and reason for planes crash landing

[0:19:59] Daily life on Kiska

[0:21:58] Morale of men on Kiska

[0:24:38] Weather on Kiska; communication with the outside world

[0:30:32] Soldier freezing to death

[0:33:18] Food on Kiska, befriending a fox, Kiska volcano

[0:37:46] What the Japanese left behind, the use of radar by Americans

[0:43:34] Keeping in touch after the war, life after the war

[0:46:23] Left the Aleutians before war's end, wife's life during war

[0:53:19] Alaska's Valor in the Pacific sites, served an important role during war

[0:55:14] Unofficial name for location of radar station, sites on Kiska, remnants of the American camp

[0:57:52] Life on Kiska

[1:00:57] Censorship during the war

[1:02:16] Life after the war