COLORADO NATIONAL MONUMENT CALENDAR PHOTO REQUESTS

Colorado National Monument Association publishes an annual calendar featuring a variety of images taken in the monument. Twelve (12) full-page photographs are required, as well as approximately 30 smaller grid images.

For the 2013 calendar, we would like to feature a variety of topics.

Wildlife: This can include our larger mammals such as big horn sheep or bobcats, and smaller ones such as rock squirrels. Pictures of birds and lizards are popular; butterflies always add color.

Plants: Spring flowers and blooming shrubs are excellent; but don't forget that old twisted juniper. Fall colors are also important.

Landscapes: All four seasons are emphasized (yes, we do know that winter is often a photographer's delight), as well as unusual and perhaps less known rock formations and monument features.

People: All forms of people recreating in the Monument at all times of the year.

In order to insure that all submissions are judged fairly, we ask that you submit 8 x 10 colored prints in landscape format. The maximum to submit is 10. Please see Guidelines on the attached Submission Form for more information.

If your image is chosen for the 2013 calendar, we would like to offer you copies of the final CNMA calendar as a courtesy for the use of your image and credit as the photographer. You will receive 10 calendars for one or more full-page pictures and 5 calendars for one or more, smaller grid pictures --- total calendars given not to exceed 10.

Thank you for your participation in our 2013 CNMA calendar.

Please contact us if you have any questions. Feel free to forward this information to other photographers with great photos of our monument. Deadline for submission is March 2, 2012.

CNMA is a non-profit 501(c)3 National Park Service cooperating association. Its mission is to assist Colorado National Monument with educational, scientific, research, and historical projects. CNMA generates most of its income through sales from the bookstore in the visitor center. Our yearly calendars are not only an important sales item for the bookstore, but also an important venue for local and distant photographers to showcase their skills.
