

Political Cartoon Named "The (Fort) Monroe Doctrine.

Image depicts African Americans running into a fort in the background with the American flag. In the foreground, a white man representing a Southern planter with a flat hat and a whip in his hand yells at an African American, "Come back you black rascal!"

The African American points to the fort, replying "Can't come back nohow massa. Dis chile's contraband."