

Hello, New Pen Pal!

My name is Mt. Whitney! How are you? I live in the High Sierra of Sequoia National Park

I'm granite, like many of the other mountains. I am most proud that I'm the tallest mountain in the lower 48 states! Right now, I'm 14,495 feet tall, but I'm still growing.

I asked the rangers if they would show you a piece of my granite, so you know what I look like.

Hi Pen Pal!

How are you? The rangers told me that you study geology! That is SO COOL. Geology is my life!

For my history class, our teacher gave us an assignment to tell our family history. I know a little bit about our family's geology, and I have some photos, but I have NO IDEA what order they go in. This assignment is due in couple of weeks, but I need help! Would you PLEASE help me figure out what order these photos go in?

Your Friend,
Mt. Whitney
