

Name: _____

Primary Source: _____

Questions, Problems, or Concerns

Instructions:

Read the primary source. What events did the author experience? Why would these events have been problematic? What did the author and community do in response to these problems? Be as thorough as possible with your explanations. Use the back of this sheet if you would like to do so. The author might list the problem and then tell you what they did because of this problem. OR they may tell you what they did during the battle – and you will need to discuss why with the class.

One thing that happened:

Why was this a problem or concern?

What did the author or community do in response to this?

A second thing that happened:

Why was this a problem or concern?

What did the author or community do in response to this?

A third thing that happened:

Why was this a problem or concern?

What did the author or community do in response to this?

Another thing that happened:

Why was this a problem or concern?

What did the author or community do in response to this?

One final thing that happened:

Why was this a problem?

What did the author or community do in response to this problem?