

WAR NUMBERS

The Battle of Palo Alto, the first battle of the U.S.-Mexican War, was fought in 1846.

Draw lines and patterns in the space outside the numbers. Add color. Do not draw or color inside the numbers.

The space inside the numbers is called positive space and the space outside the numbers is called negative space. Artists use positive and negative space to make certain elements in a drawing stand out.

