

Friday, Saturday, & Sunday
April 24th, 25th, and 26th, 2009
Santee, South Carolina

Welcome!

Come experience the birding wonders of the Santee region in central South Carolina! With a variety of places to see and explore, there will be plenty for all to enjoy. Whether you are coming to sharpen your birding skills or just enjoy some wonderful Spring weather, please plan to join us for the Santee Birding and Nature Festival. Here are a few of the places that will be featured:

- Audubon Center at Beidler Forest
- Brosnan Forest
- Congaree National Park
- Giant Cement Quarry
- Lakes Marion and Moultrie
- Manchester State Forest
- Poinsett State Park
- Santee National Wildlife Refuge
- Santee State Park
- Upper and Lower Santee Swamp
- Wannamaker Preserve Audubon Sanctuary

Keynote

Speaker

One of the nation's top birding experts, Mr. Pete Dunne, will be the keynote speaker at the dinner on Friday night. Director of the Cape May Bird Observatory and founder of the World Series of Birding, Mr. Dunne is a regular columnist for a number of birding publications and has authored numerous books about birds and birding. Best known for his skills as a hawk watcher, he is equally as fascinated by shorebirds and songbirds and has been leading workshops and tours for nearly 30 years. In addition to being our keynote speaker, Mr. Dunne will also be leading a workshop on the "Art of Pishing" as well as a special field trip on Santee National Wildlife Refuge (more information on those offerings in the Workshop and Field Trip sections). Registration will be limited for these events so be sure to get your registration in early for these truly wonderful offerings.

Activities

In addition to birding trips, there will be guided canoe and kayak trips, pontoon boat tours of Lake Marion, a butterfly walk, a fossil walk led by noted South Carolina naturalist, Rudy Mancke, wildlife photography workshops, conservation exhibits, and more!!

A Celebration of Nature in Central South Carolina

Wildlife Photography Workshops

Saturday & Sunday, 9:00 a.m.—4:00 p.m.

Internationally known photographer Len Rue will conduct this one-on-one photography workshop at the Santee Cultural Arts Center. His work has been published in hundreds of publications worldwide, including Field & Stream, Newsweek, New York Times Magazine, National Geographic, and many others. He has traveled extensively worldwide and developed a distinctive photographic style. His knowledge of wildlife and nature have combined to make him one of the best known and most published wildlife photographers of our time. Co-author of the book, How To Photograph Animals in the Wild, Len also has magazine articles to his credit and is a member of the Outdoor Writers Association of America.

visit: www.rue.com

During the workshop, there will be time spent in a classroom setting followed by one-on-one experience in the field. Participants will need to bring their own photography equipment. Each workshop limited to 12 participants so register early.

Wildlife & Nature Exhibits
