

CURECANTI NATIONAL RECREATION AREA

ALL Colorado State hunting regulations and laws apply in Curecanti National Recreation Area.

Developed areas are closed to hunting, trapping and target shooting. This is for visitor safety, administration, and public use and enjoyment.

Restrictions apply while hunting between Neversink and Elk Creek. Within this area, bird and small game hunting is allowed with shotguns only, and large game hunting is permitted with bows only.

Trails may be used for access to hunting areas, however, hunters must be a minimum of 100 yards away in all directions from any trail in order to discharge a weapon. Weapons may not be fired from, toward or across any trail.

Hunting is NOT permitted in Black Canyon of the Gunnison National Park .
