CVNPA Opens Art Exhibit by Martin Huehner

Peninsula, Ohio - Cuyahoga Valley National Park Association is pleased to announce the opening of the art show "Ecosystems: Visual Echoes," which displays works by Martin K. Huehner. The show runs through May 25, 2007 at the Seiberling Gallery located in the administrative offices of CVNPA. There will be an artist reception on April 19, 2007 from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Martin Huehner is a professor of environmental studies and art at Hiram College whose work is influenced by the natural world.

"My artwork is strongly informed by my previous career as a biologist and geologist, and this manifests itself in my attraction to natural processes and the time scales on which they occur. The medium I work in most is clay, which is itself a product of chemical weathering of igneous and metamorphic rocks," Huehner said.

One piece of Huehner's work that will be on display is "Time Capsule."

"My Time Capsules series provides viewers with a glimpse into geological, evolutionary, and ecological time that prevails in forest ecosystems, and consists of samples that represent these different ages," Huehner said. "When viewing this installation we are invited to place the typical span of human life in its sequence."

The Seiberling Gallery is located at 1403 West Hines Hill Rd. in Peninsula. For more information please call (330) 657-2909.

CVNPA, in partnership with the National Park Service and Cuyahoga Valley National Park, provides innovative education programs and fosters community awareness, support and enjoyment of the park.
