Religious and Community Groups Invited to Cuyahoga Valley National Park for Free Programming

Brecksville, Ohio – Cuyahoga Valley National Park (CVNP) is a place to gather for fellowship, fun, and fitness! Our free, ranger led, programs explore how your religious or community group can take part in national park experiences that are good for your mind, body, and spirit. Walk the trails, tour the park by automobile/bus to our scenic areas and attractions, play field games in our many open spaces, or listen to stories around a campfire.

Programs offered in the park do not include transportation. Additionally, park rangers can come to your community and bring the campfire to you!

For more information about having your community group engaged with the park, contact Park Ranger Pamela Machuga at pam_machuga@nps.gov or call 330-657-1914.
