Valley North

The Cuyahoga River snakes down the length of its tranquil valley. Three transportation routes link popular sites along this spine: the America's Byway, the Towpath Trail, and Cuyahoga Valley Scenic Railroad. For trip planning help in the north, stop at Canal Exploration Center. Find out how the Ohio & Erie Canal helped shape the nation through interactive exhibits. Hours vary seasonally.

Nearby Rockside Station sells walk-up train tickets. (Click cvsr.com for advance sales.)

Purchase a day pass or use the seasonal Bike Aboard! service to explore Cuyahoga Valley in unique ways.

Drivers can take a short side trip to visit Bridal Veil Falls. Managed by Cleveland Metroparks, this spectacular cascading waterfall is a photographers' favorite. A lovely river view is farther south at Station Road Bridge Trailhead.

Brecksville Nature Center, another metropark side trip, is popular with families. It is open daily (except some holidays), 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Boston Store Visitor Center is the national park's information hub. A short video is available upon request. In summer, it is open daily from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Other seasons vary. Walk or cycle in either direction along the firm, flat Towpath Trail to explore the river and canal.

From Boston, travel by road or trail to other photo-worthy waterfalls. Blue Hen Falls is a steep half-mile walk down from its small parking lot.

At 60 feet, Brandywine Falls is the second highest in Ohio. A boardwalk off the parking lot leads to upper (wheelchair accessible) and lower observation platforms. Hikers can continue on a 1.4-mile loop into the gorge below.

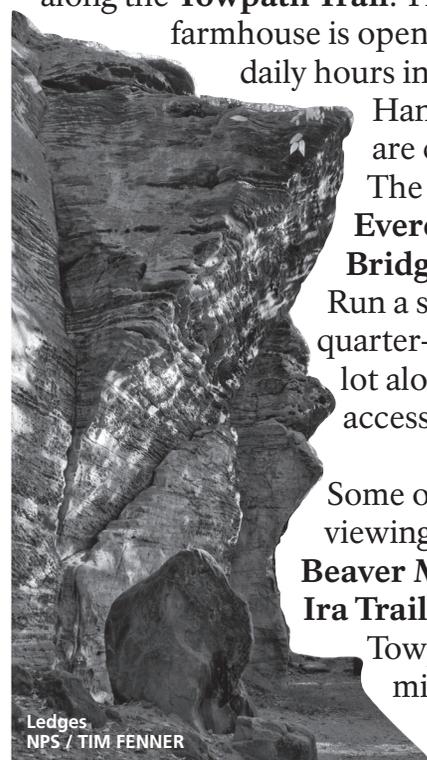

In Peninsula, just south of Boston, visitors can stroll the historic downtown, dine, and browse unique shops. You can buy walk-up train tickets at Peninsula Depot. Next door, Trail Mix Peninsula provides visitor information and sells souvenirs, clothing, and food.

Valley South

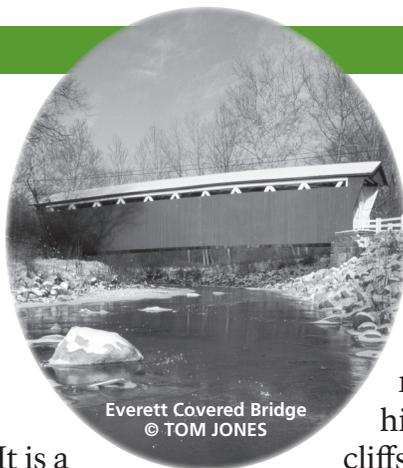

Hunt House is the park's southern rest stop along the Towpath Trail. The small, historic farmhouse is open seasonally with daily hours in summer.

Ledges

Hands-on exhibits are child-friendly. The picturesque Everett Covered Bridge spans Furnace Run a short drive away. It is a quarter-mile from the parking lot along a wheelchair-accessible path.

Some of the best wildlife viewing in the region is at Beaver Marsh. From Ira Trailhead, follow the Towpath Trail a quarter-mile north to the observation boardwalk. Here and along the canal, look for beaver, muskrat, river otters, turtles, and a variety of waterfowl.

To the east is the Virginia Kendall area with its network of rugged hiking trails. The highlight is the Ledges, sandstone cliffs rising up from a moist hemlock-birch forest. Follow the 2.2-mile loop trail north of the historic picnic shelter. Ledges is open daily from dawn to dusk.
