Fire Island Photography Workshop

Learn tips and techniques for photographing the wildlife, plants, natural landscapes, structures and people that define the character of Fire Island. First, during an indoor presentation learn how your camera settings can affect the kinds images you take, the backgrounds you are looking to achieve and the sharpness photographers strive for. Then, weather permitting, take a walk on the wild side for some photography practice in the Otis Pike Wilderness. Diane Abell, Park Planner for Fire Island National Seashore, and professional photographer, will be your guide today, while you explore Fire Island through your camera's lens.

When: Sunday, November 13

Time: 1:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Where: Wilderness Visitor Center

(southern end of William Floyd Parkway)

- * Dress for the weather and bring your camera.
- * This program includes a presentation and a short walk.
