

Fort Davis

National Historic Site

National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior

Curriculum Materials Grades 6-8

Teacher Notes: Resources — Internet Sites

Internet Sites

Note: The National Park Service does not endorse the websites listed below. They are offered simply as resources for teachers. The Internet offers an unbelievable amount of information, and websites change constantly. It is important to remember – and to remind your students – that not all the information found on the internet is reliable or accurate and therefore should be cross-referenced. All sites should be reviewed by the teacher before using with students.

www.beauvoir.org/ Website for Beauvoir, Mississippi, the Jefferson Davis Home and Presidential Library. Information on history camps, exhibits, tours, rates, and more can be found here.

www.Buffalosoldier.net Site with a good amount of information about Buffalo Soldiers for teachers.

www.civilwarhome.com/jdavisbio.htm A detailed biography of the president of the Confederate States of America.

www.cws.lsu.edu/ This is a comprehensive database of topics related to the Civil War.

www.cobblestonepub.com All kinds of resources for parents and teachers that can be downloaded free of charge for use in the classroom. Teachers' guides, quizzes, and links to other educational sites.

www.cr.nps.gov/csd/gettex/ This site will take you on an interactive tour of a Civil War army camp.

www.educationworld.com An excellent resource for teachers.

<http://www.transchool.eustis.army.mil/Museum/ExhibitsIndex.htm>

Visit this site to learn more information about camels and army transportation in the military in the 1800s.

www.history.rochester.edu/godeys Site contains five 1850s issues of the Godey's magazine.

www.moc.org/ The home page for the Museum and White House of the Confederacy where you can find education, collections and other services offered at the facilities.

www.nps.gov This is the National Park Service overview site with abundant information about our national parks around the country.

www.nps.gov/learn National Park Service educational site with many activities for teachers and students.

<http://www.cr.nps.gov/nr/twhp/> The National Park Service's site, "Teaching with Historic Places," has resources for the study of historic places all over the nation.

www.over-land.com/ This site is dedicated to the overland routes west. It presents maps, distances between stopover stations, the costs of goods and supplies, landmarks, descriptions of trappers, mountain men, Indians, and much more.

www.pointsouth.com/csnet/csa-hero.htm This brings you to the E-Voice of the Old South. Click on Jefferson Davis at the Great Southern Men site.

www.TexasBeyondHistory.net An excellent site on all aspects of Texas history for students and teachers.

www.texasfortstrail Find information here on many Texas forts.

www.tpwd.state.tx.us This site contains information on the Buffalo Soldiers. (Click on Find parks or historic site, go to the bottom of the page and click on Texas Buffalo Soldiers.)

www.tsha.utexas.edu/handbook/online This is the six-volume "Handbook of Texas" online. The ultimate resource for information on Texas.

www.txarch.org/ Texas Archeological Society site www.uvm.edu/~hag/godey/index.html Site contains three complete issues and one partial issue of Godey's Lady's Book from the 1850s.

www.womenwriters.net/domesticgoddesses/index.html This site presents a number of biographies of important women of the 1800s. Includes links to other relevant websites that make it a good teacher resource.