

Frederick Douglass on Education

“Knowledge is power.”

“One of the most dangerous things in the world to slavery was education.”

“The prosperity, the happiness and well-being of society depends upon education.”

“Education... means emancipation.
It means light and liberty. ”

“There never was a self-educated man, however well-educated, who... would not have been better educated by the aid of schools and colleges.”

“One of the most dangerous things in the world to slavery was education.”

“So in a state of freedom we want education, and let every man strive for it with all his might.”
