

The National Park Service presents Seminars in Science Education

SCIENCE in the field

photo by AJ Baxter

JULY 18th

JAMAICA BAY WILDLIFE REFUGE
From 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

JAMAICA BAY: A PARADISE FOR BIRDS & BIRDERS

Hear from field researchers studying Osprey and migrating shorebirds along the beautiful West Pond Trail. Learn how your students can collect and analyze real data. Master teachers experienced in bringing their students to Jamaica bay to do field research will share their practices and techniques.

Free workshop featuring

John Rowden
NYC Audubon Society
*Researching migrating
bird behavior*

Robert S. Kennedy
NY Harbor Conservancy
Osprey tracking by satellite

For more information www.nps.gov/gate/forteachers
Sign up by contacting Dan_Meharg@nps.gov, put "seminars" in subject line.