

Photo Contest Find Your Park 2015 Top Ten

Please help us select the prize winning photographs by voting for your favorite.

Centennial Photo Contest Find Your Park 2015

The focus the photo contest for this year, in anticipation of the National Park Service Centennial in 2016, is the Find Your Park initiative, designed to raise awareness and interest in all parks, whether local, state, or national. We have some wonderful entries of pictures of parks in the area and the top ten are displayed below. You will see that each tells an interesting story about parks, nature, people and all are beautiful photographs.

Crowd Source Voting – you pick the winners.

Have a look at the pictures below and then vote for the ones you like the best. You may vote by liking on Facebook and Instagram, or by sending an email to gateway_photo_contest@nps.gov noting the picture and photographer. Voting will be open through September 10.

The top three places will be determined by simple majority, first will be the one with the most votes, second next most, and third next lower. The totals will include Facebook, Instagram and email likes and votes.

After the winners are selected, we will prepare an exhibit of these top ten and selected additional pictures which we will display in the Jamaica Bay Wildlife Refuge. At the opening the winners will be recognized and prizes awarded. Stay tuned for further details.

What's up Doc? by Hyungjun Yoon, was last year's first prize winner.
