“Discover Glen Canyon” Park Pass Photo Contest Announced

Page, AZ – Do you have a favorite photo you took while visiting Glen Canyon National Recreation Area? If so, you could have your photo featured on next year’s annual entrance pass!

“We are pleased to announce Glen Canyon National Recreation Area’s park pass photo contest. With its stunning red rock landscape, Glen Canyon and Lake Powell are an amazing place for photography. We hope to get a variety of submissions from the public,” said Glen Canyon National Recreation Area Superintendent Kitty Roberts.

The winning photo will be featured on Glen Canyon’s annual park entrance pass. Second and third place photos will also be announced and displayed on the park’s website. Winners will be chosen by a panel of National Park Service employees and community leaders.

Individuals may submit photos featuring any aspect of Glen Canyon National Recreation Area. Photos could be of anglers, boaters or kayakers enjoying Lake Powell, hikers in narrow canyons, wildlife, or even the park’s brilliant night sky.

The annual entrance pass costs $30 and provides free entry for a year into Glen Canyon National Recreation Area. Eighty percent of entrance fees and revenues from the sale of the annual passes stay in Glen Canyon National Recreation Area to support critical projects for visitors.

Photos must be taken within Glen Canyon National Recreation Area. All entries must be received no later than January 2, 2007. Additional information, including contest rules and details on how to submit photos, is available online at www.nps.gov/glca.
