

VESTIGES of Lands End

Left to right: A view of the Victorian Cliff House, Sutro Baths, and Firth Wheel from the sea; a map showing points around San Francisco from which Lands End can be seen.

Views Towards Lands End

Many points around San Francisco are known for their spectacular views of Land's End. These include King Mountain, Point Reyes, Golden Gate Heights Park, and Grand View Park. However, these views have changed over time as San Francisco development has intensified.

What was once a barren landscape of dunes and cliffs has been transformed by a series of iconic landmarks silhouetted against the skyline -- the Sutro Baths, the Firth Wheel at Merrie Way, the massed trees of Sutro Heights and the cypress forest, and three incarnations of the Cliff House.