From reviewing incident reports I've received so far (thru end of July): total GOGA dog incidents, 53; of those, 10 involved a CDW. Just a snapshot - there may even be more reports from that period I haven't received yet.

Dear James,

I am writing to you regarding the application I sent to you yesterday. Of course at the last minute the head organizer called me and she said that we are NOT going to have the meetup as scheduled and I don't know if it is permanently cancelled or postponed and I am not going to step in anymore. It's her job to do this and she was not available...

I wanted to write to you so you don't waste time on the application as we are not holding the event and if anything happens she will handle all the permits herself.

I greatly appreciate your kind help yesterday and all of the info and your help with the rush.

Thank you so very much. I didn't want you to waste your time as we will not be at Fort Funston and I have passed it on to the head organizer....try to help and it backfires.

We appreciate your efforts in trying to obtain a permit for the organizer prior to the event. We were a little surprised to read the link below, and more so, being blamed for not permitting the requested activity.

As I stated in earlier emails, feel free to pass my information along to the organizer to help in processing future permits.

We may be looking into a machine that can print the smartcards, so staff do not have to go down to 450 Golden Gate. Depends on HR, budget, WASO, etc. So I am not holding my breath. Its a little more complicated, because it has to deal with the chips on our smartcards...

Were there specific people you need to create badges for?

Hi Shirwin,

I'm on my way out of town for the rest of the week, but wanted to provide an update on the dog walking permit. James has made great progress with support from Jeni and Todd, but we need a bit more time to get the final draft to you. I'd like an opportunity to review it and won't have an opportunity to do that until next week. We're also fine tuning the cost recovery model and fee schedule options.

Feel free to reach out to James if you have questions or concerns. Otherwise, we'll be in touch next week.

Best,
Jessica

Hi dog walking permit team,

I know James has done some good work on drafting the permit and cost recovery, and also that we're in a time crunch for a draft. I would like an opportunity to review the draft permit and cost recovery model when you both feel its in final draft form - both Jeni and I are out next Weds through Friday so I'm hoping it will be something I can look at by Monday. Is that reasonable?

A Tuesday meeting would be great. James, Todd and I met last week and got a great start philosophically on our direction and James was going to update his draft cost recovery model as a result - so I'm feeling confident that what James has ready for review is getting pretty polished. I'll make a point of getting my feedback to James by COB tomorrow. And then I think Todd was going to loop back in and review it as well once he returns.

Commercial dog walkers must follow new law

Katie Meek, The Chronicle

CJ Miller, a professional dog walker, greets Gunga at Crissy Field. A new S.F. law requires dog walkers to carry permits, follow safety regulations and walk eight or fewer dogs at a time.

Kale Williams

July 15, 2013

Professional dog walkers in San Francisco are on a shorter leash after new regulations took effect earlier this month. The new law requires dog walkers to obtain a license, limits the number of dogs that can be walked at one time to eight and requires a vehicle inspection and an approval of any vehicle used to transport dogs for commercial walking.

So far, the Recreation and Park Department, which is primarily responsible for the enforcement of the new rules, has been educating dog walkers on the new law, but that will soon change because unlicensed dog walkers can be fined.

"Most dog walkers do a phenomenal job, but some don't," which is why the legislation is needed, said Supervisor Scott

Wiener, who authored the law. The department of Animal Care and Control is responsible for issuing permits, which cost $240 for the first year and $100 for yearly renewal thereafter. New dog walkers will be required to complete 20 hours of training before they can apply for a permit.

Additionally, Animal Care and Control makes sure that operators carry a minimum of $1 million in liability insurance.

To date, 56 dog walkers have completed the entire process and obtained their licenses and Animal Care and Control has inspected 137 vehicles.

Angela Gardner, spokeswoman for the San Francisco Professional Dog Walkers Association, estimates that the city has roughly 300 professional dog walkers, but notes that the new permitting process will help to get a much more accurate count.

However, enforcement of the new law could be a matter of being in the right place at the right time.

The San Francisco Public Utilities Commission and Police Department will assist in enforcing the law, but the primary responsibility falls on the Recreation and Park Department, which has 11 full-time park patrol officers and three supervisors.

"Anywhere from two to four officers will be on duty at any one time, patrolling 220 parks citywide, 24 hours a day," said Elton Pon, spokesman for the Recreation and Park Department. "Enforcement of the new law will be one of many park regulations our park patrol officers enforce on a daily basis."

Pon explained that the department will soon be adding six more officers to patrol the parks and that they are working to educate the public on the new laws.

Dog walkers found to be in violation of the rules will be subject to a fine up to $50 for their first offense, with fines climbing up to $500 for multiple infractions within a 12-month period.

In a city like San Francisco, where dogs outnumber children and backyards are few and far between, dog walkers play a crucial role. But, like all new legislation, there were some sticking points, according to Wiener.

"The most intense discussions were over the number of dogs. A lot of other jurisdictions max out at six, but San Francisco has a huge population of dog owners and many of them don't have yards," he said. "Because those numbers are so significant, it made sense to be less restrictive."

Most dog walkers agreed that the limit of eight dogs per walker represented a good compromise, according to Gardner.

"If it was less than that it would start to impact people's ability to make a living, but if you are walking more than eight dogs it can be hard to manage," she said.

Katie Meek, The Chronicle

Angela Gardner, spokeswoman for the S.F. Professional Dog Walkers Association, walks eight dogs at Crissy Field. New regulations for dog walkers limit the number of dogs that can be walked at a time to eight.

I'm on leave after today. Feel free to email back, and James can follow up through this Friday, or we can wait until January. James and I gather that with the extension of the public comments period on the DEIS, our comment period for this interim strategy is also going to be pushed back - but I'll be back in the office on January 2nd so we can still ready this for the 15th if necessary.

Thanks and happy holidays!

oh yeah, I read that. The thing that pissed me off most was the part where they said the Ranger (me) would not allow it; that's BS! we were willing to permit them, but warned them that they wouldn't find any parking. I don't think I could ever go into public affairs.

Corgies are dumb looking anyways!

Do either of you have an estimate as to how many hours you have spent only on the dog SUP issue, not the DMP as a whole.

Or an estimate as to how many hours per year you think you will be spending on the SUP related issues?

We have an estimate of 72 hours for 2013, and 12 hours each year there after.

Thank you.

For this year, my guesstimate would be maybe 5 full days. Expect another 3 or 4 full days to get to implementation. After that, would mainly be fielding general complaint/comment calls, so that might be 4 hours/month.

I invented a new acronym! Commercial Dogwalking Special Use Permit. :)

I put my first crack at a cover letter and instructions in our folder, titled Cover letter for CDW application DRAFT 2013-11-13. Can you add to it, check the things I highlighted in yellow, and suggest changes where you see fit? I'm not too married to much in this thing.

Thanks!

Update on the public comment period for the GGNRA Dog Management Plan/ Supplemental EIS

As you may remember, the Supplemental EIS was released for a 90-day public comment period - September 6 to December 4, 2013

. After the government shutdown, the comment period was extended 5 weeks, to January 11, 2014. However, concerns expressed by some stakeholders have resulted in a second extension; the comment period now ends on February 18, 2014.

In the next week, the information signs that were placed at all sites addressed by the dog management plan will be replaced with updated versions, and updates will be sent to the many people on the project contact list.

The Dog Management Plan/Supplemental EIS is online at <http://parkplanning.nps.gov/dogplan> Information about the dog management planning process is at www.nps.gov/goga/parkmgmt/dog-management.htm

If a member of the public has questions, please give them the Dog Management Information Line number: 415-561-4728.

Hello Sherwin, thank you for the note.

Regarding your voicemail. Regrettably we have not issued any approved permits yet because none of the applicants could either obtain or wish to pay for the insurance requirement we are asking for. The insurance is a typical $1 million liability coverage but with the additional rider of naming the Town as additional insured AND primary/non-contributory coverage.

Marin County and East Regional apparently does not have the primary/non-contributory coverage requirement which is always a stumbling block for small businesses.

Our Town Attorney and Town Manager have not addressed the complication yet.

As a consequence, we've heard reports that the commercial dog walkers continue to walk their dogs illegally, if not more stealthily, in our open space.

This item should be a discussion point your analysis.

Hi Nicholas, I apologize for not having added you earlier to our email contact list for the dog management planning project here at GGNRA, so here's some information about our draft Dog Management Plan/Supplemental EIS which went out for a 90 day public comment period on 9/6/2013. You have been added now, and will be notified as the project goes forward.

You can review the document and comment on it online at <http://parkplanning.nps.gov/dogplan> Comments can also be mailed to the park at Golden Gate National Recreation Area, Ft. Mason, Bldg. 201, San Francisco, CA 94123, or submitted at one of the 3 public open house meetings in early November. The Marin open house is at Tam High School on Wednesday, November 6 from 4 to 8 p.m. All dates and times are listed at the web site above, and at the park's web site - www.nps.gov/goga/seis.htm

Any questions about the project, please let me know, and thank you for updating me (per my voice message a bit ago) on the number of permits issued to commercial dog walkers.

Am getting 2'x3' laminated signs to mount on construction A frames all around the park - we want to get them up tomorrow, Friday at the latest. Am checking in with maintenance as to where the A frames are, but need help placing them. List of where they'll go is attached.

Would LOVE to get some help with this - I'll be available to mount signs and help place them, or whatever else is most helpful to get this done.

Thank you!!

Hi Sgt. Falzone and James,

I hope you both are doing well. I wanted to touch base regarding the upcoming GGNRA Public Open House on Nov. 2nd in the Fleet Room, located in Building D. According to Shirwin Smith, the protesters have requested for a permit to gather in front of the building, as they did similarly in 2011. I was hoping to find out what type of game plan has been set, if anything, as FMC would like to create this area for them.

If you could let me know, I'd greatly appreciate it.

Many thanks!

Hi guys - am picking up the laminated posters tonite. Can one of you help getting them out tomorrow? Am stopping in MAHE to drop off the Marin posters to Maint., should be in by 9. There are 19 SF locations, and 6 in San Mateo - but so far have only located 12 A frames (at Crissy). Can't reach anyone in Ocean District to see if they can provide some.

Anyway, when are you available to help? I'll work with your schedule.

To: James Dress &lt;jdress@sfspca.org&gt;, James Sword &lt;James_Sword@nps.gov&gt;

James (D), do you have a permit form from us you could edit to the details of the tabling? If not, here's where you can download a request form and fill out - <http://www.nps.gov/goga/planyourvisit/upload/Special-Events-Permit-Application.pdf>

Pls complete and send to James Sword, plus send that insurance certificate as you did with the others. It just really hit me we have to get this permit together in a few days!

James (S), the dates are 9/22 and 9/23, next Sunday and Monday. Not much heads up, but this is such a great thing, am doing whatever necessary to expedite, including running by Howard at the same time to confirm approval. I expect it to be fine with all, since it's been discussed before, so would like to get the permitting started.

Thanks to both of you.

We met at the commercial dogwalking meeting on December 2nd at Fort Mason. I had a couple quick follow-up questions for you as we finalize our permit language. I just left you a voicemail as well. I'm heading out on leave after today but my colleague James (cc-ed here) will be in the office until Friday, or we will pick this up again when I return on January 2nd.

Hi Shirwin,

Our team has started to think about how we'll achieve the ambitious goal of implementing commercial dog walking permits in August, and I've tapped James Sword to lead this effort with support from Jeni Treutelaar. We need to get our arms around a scope of work as soon as possible, so might you have time to meet with us in the next week or so to discuss sensitivities or good-to-know elements of this project as well as revisit any relevant data you've gathered? I've cc'ed Aaron too as he may want to join in this strategy session?

Thanks in advance,
Jessica

From the SF Animal Care and Control web site:

- Initial permit cost is $240/ $100 annually to renew.
- Will start to issue permits June 1, altho regs not in effect until July 1.
- There is a 120 day grace period to allow time for applicants to meet the training requirements.
- Enforcement of the law will be primarily complaint driven
- Penalties for non-compliance: $50, $100, and up to $500

Target date of August for us - after public meetings - would be good.

Great. Perhaps you can coordinate a meeting with Jeni and I - my calendar is current, but next week is ugly for me until Friday.

Hi Shirwin,

I understand you met with James today and shared a bunch on info, so BMD will convene with this in hand and get back to you if we need a follow up to really dive into the permitting process.

Thanks, and have a great long weekend!
Jessica

I have created a folder in our SPUG drive titled, "Dog SUPs," do you have access to this drive?

I am also forwarding the emails with downloaded attachments.

Thank you.

Greetings,

I was thinking today we'll need to update the SPUG page on the GOGA website prior to our release of the commercial dog walking program. CDWSUPs should be covered in the information provided to the public on that site about the various permits. I have a few specific thoughts and I imagine James would be the content lead for SPUG. Just wanted to get this on our radar.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Jeni

On Friday, with your help, a-frame signs were set up at sites throughout the park - Stinson Beach to Rancho - to alert the public to the dog management plan public comment period and imminent public meetings. With only one day's warning, you all pitched in to help solve what to me was a daunting task, both in scope and deadlines.

Big thanks to:

Herman and Noemi - for graciously adding this task to all that's already on your shop's plate.

Reyes and Duane - for being so cheerful and responsive in providing the needed A frames.

Judy and Bob (hope I have his name right) on Billy's crew - for also pitching in with loan of additional A frames with equal cheer (pls pass my thanks to them - I don't have their emails)

Allen and James - for physically spending a good chunk of your Friday placing signs throughout Marin and SF.

Could never have done it without you all.

Okay, have now provided comment on the badge mockup as well. By the way, I'm saving the files with "edited" added into your filename to differentiate.
