Hello, we are not interested in hiking but want to see great views from the free shuttle bus or our own car.

Park rangers suggest:

- Mather Point: start with a five-minute walk from Grand Canyon Visitor Center to Mather Point.
- Shuttle bus: ride the free shuttle buses to see Grand Canyon views. Allow 2 hours to visit overlooks on the Kaibab/Rim Route (orange).
- Car: drive 25 miles (40 km) along Desert View Drive. Stop at viewpoints, learn about ancestral Puebloan people at Tusayan Museum, and visit the historic Desert View Watchtower.
- Sunrise/sunset: view by car from Lipan Point on Desert View Drive or ride the Kaibab/Rim Route shuttle bus to Yaki Point.

Good day, I'm excited to explore the canyon on foot or by bike.

Park rangers suggest:

- On the rim: 13 miles (20 km) of rim trail let you see lots of great views from the top. Use the free shuttle bus to get back to where you started.
- In the canyon: two inner-canyon trails offer great options. The scenic South Kaibab Trail is ideal for shorter day hikes. The Bright Angel Trail offers longer hikes.
- Biking: travel the Greenway Trail to South Kaibab Trailhead or ride Hermit Road to Hermits Rest.
- Sunrise/sunset: view from Ooh Ahh Point in the canyon or bike along any Greenway Trail during sunset to see the light changing.

Hi, I have children in my group but would like to see great views of the canyon.

Park rangers suggest:

- Junior Ranger: stop by a visitor center to pick up a Junior Ranger booklet. Children four and older attend a free ranger program and complete activities to become Junior Rangers.
- Park ranger program: attend a fossil walk, geo-glimpse, or condor talk and have your kids get their Junior Ranger booklet signed.
- Stroll the village: walk with your family along the canyon rim through historic Grand Canyon Village. Take in the view, grab a bite to eat, and learn about early visitors to the canyon.
- Sunrise/sunset: explore Yavapai Geology Museum and stay to watch sunset at Yavapai Point.

If parking is full at Grand Canyon Visitor Center, use lots A, B, C, or D in Grand Canyon Village. See map pages 4–5.

New Trails Forever Endowment

In February, Arizona Public Service donated $1 million to the Grand Canyon Association establishing the Grand Canyon Trails Forever Endowment to preserve and protect Grand Canyon's trails. This is one of the most significant private, philanthropic gifts in Grand Canyon's history. The endowment provides on-going funding vital to help maintain the 350 miles of established trails, including the popular corridor trails like the Bright Angel, South Kaibab and North Kaibab trails. A portion of this generous gift was also used to help renovate the Bright Angel Trailhead.

As the National Park Service approaches its 100th anniversary in 2016, this donation establishes a path that ensures those generations to come enjoy one of our nation's most precious gifts—Grand Canyon, for the next 100 years and beyond. Visit www.grandcanyon.org for information.

What else do I need to know about driving?

Do not stop or park along the roadside, except where signs or lines on the road indicate it is permissible. Use pull-outs and overlooks to take pictures and view wildlife. Please do not block other people's enjoyment of the park by stopping in the road or blocking traffic.

Day Hiking Below the Rim

Day hiking into the canyon affords an unparalleled experience. For an enjoyable hike you must prepare for extreme conditions. Gauge your fitness level, be honest about your health, and don't compare yourself to five years ago. Know your limits and average walking distance and time—Grand Canyon is an extreme environment!

Consider purchasing a trail guide at Park Stores before venturing down the trail. Park rangers like to say "going down is optional, but coming up is mandatory." It takes twice as long to hike up as it does to hike down. For additional information about day and overnight hiking, visit the Backcountry Information Center or www.nps.gov/grca/planyourvisit/backcountry.htm.

Backcountry Camping Permits

To camp anywhere in the park, other than in a developed campground on the South Rim, North Rim, or Tuweep, you must obtain a permit from the Backcountry Information Center, which offers a limited number of last minute walk-up permits.

Hike Smart

Knowledge, being prepared, and a good plan are all keys to success. This is not the place for spontaneity. Eat and drink often and take a break once per hour. Stay together, follow your plan, and know where and how to seek help.

Trail	Difficulty	Destination	Distance Round-Trip	Elevation Change One Way	Time Round-Trip	Facilities

Prepare a Day Pack With:

Water At least two liters or more depending on hike intensity and duration. Drink to thirst. Know your water sources—some water stations are seasonal.

Food Bring salty snacks and a full meal. Eat often, even if you are not hungry. Snack every time you hydrate.

First Aid Kit and Survival Tools Also include medications, blister care, and duct tape.

Map Many trails are well marked, but some are not. Know your route.

Flashlight or Headlamp You may end up hiking in the dark unexpectedly; cell phones do not provide adequate light.

Sun Protection Sunscreen, hat, sunglasses, and a sun umbrella.

Communication Whistle or signal mirror; while cell phones are not reliable, they may be helpful.

Simple Shelters Emergency tarp with reflective side.

Weather-appropriate Clothing and Footwear Layer for the weather and wear hiking boots with good soles, a hat, and gloves. Over-the-shoe traction devices recommended for ice and snow.

Health Risks

Common Challenges Any activity at high elevation and in a dry environment can bring your body to its limits and exacerbate pre-existing medical conditions, current illnesses, or lack of proper fitness when attempting to hike into this steep canyon. Spring conditions vary from extreme cold to very hot temperatures. Watch the weather forecast and prepare for both.

Heat-related Illnesses In spring, beware of over-exposure to hot, dry weather. Rest in the shade, hydrate, and eat high-energy foods.

Hyponatremia Common hiking illness that occurs from improper over-hydration and low salt ingestion during a strenuous hike; a deadly condition if ignored. Balance hydration with salty snack intake, eat a well-rounded lunch, and rest frequently while hiking. Drink to thirst and eat regularly.

Over Exertion When looking from the rim into the canyon everything looks close—but it is not! Know your limits, pace yourself, and take a 5- to 10-minute break once an hour. If you are not feeling well, rest for at least 30 minutes. Turn around before you feel tired.

Danger!

Hiking to the river and back in one day is not recommended due to long distances, extreme temperature changes, and a near 5,000-foot (1,500 m) elevation change each way. If you think you have the fitness and experience to attempt this extremely strenuous hike, please seek the advice of a professional at the Backcountry Information Center.

No Swimming The Colorado River is fast, wide, and a cold 46°F (8°C) year-round. Do not swim in the river—you will perish!

What Do I Need to Know About Elevation and Weather?

At 7,000 feet (2,135 m) elevation, you may feel short of breath, nauseous, or tire easily. Direct sun can cause dehydration and sunburn. Use sunblock and stay hydrated.

Spring weather varies greatly and can change suddenly. Be prepared with layered clothing for cold, rain, wind, sun and snow.

Never Throw Anything Over the Edge

Never throw rocks, coins, trash, or anything else over the edge. Objects tossed over the edge or dislodged by taking shortcuts can injure hikers and wildlife below.

How Can I Watch Wildlife Safely?

Never approach or feed any animal. It is dangerous—both to you and the animal—and illegal to do so.

Deer and elk: Stay at least 100 feet (30 m), or about six car lengths, away.

Squirrels: Do not feed; they will bite and can carry fleas with the plague.

California condor: Stay 75 feet (23 m) away from these endangered birds.

North Country Grand Canyon Clinic

Do You Reduce, Reuse, and Refill?

Plastic water bottles can take 1,000 years to biodegrade. In an effort to reduce litter along hiking trails, plastics in the waste stream, and greenhouse gas emissions, the park eliminated the sale of water packaged in individual disposable containers.

Free Grand Canyon spring water is available from bottle filling stations at major trailheads, visitor centers, grocery stores, and lodges. Bring your own or buy a reusable water bottle at Park Stores or gift shops. Stay hydrated and reduce your environmental footprint!

Please note: During spring runoff, Grand Canyon's drinking water may appear turbid or cloudy. This annual turbidity has been exhaustively researched and is not harmful to health. Grand Canyon National Park regularly tests the water to ensure it is safe to drink.

How Can I View Grand Canyon Safely?

Stay at least 6 feet (2 m) from the edge and hold on to children. Always be aware of your surroundings. Do not back up without first looking where you are going.

Where Can I Take My Pet?

Leashed pets are allowed on rim trails, but not below the rim, in buildings, or on shuttle buses. These limits do not apply to service animals. Anyone wishing to take a service animal below the rim must check in at the Backcountry Information Center. For kennel information see page 6.
