

Insider's Look at Grand Canyon

Webisode #38 – Jack Hanna and Ranger Lori Rome Talk About Wildlife Day

Jack Hanna: Wildlife in the Grand Canyon region is dramatic, diverse, and downright amazing. Critters of all shapes and sizes live in deserts, caves forests and canyons and contribute to making the Grand Canyon a spectacular national park.

Hi everyone I'm Jack Hanna, Director Emeritus of the Columbia Zoo and aquarium and host of Jack Hanna's Into the Wild, here to invite you to the Grand Canyon's annual Celebrate Wildlife Day event. It takes place each year on the first Saturday of May on the South Rim of Grand Canyon National Park. Celebrate Wildlife Day is an all day event filled with ranger programs, activities and exhibits focusing on wildlife and wildlife research. It also includes an open house featuring live animals from the Adobe Mountain Wildlife Center. Kids of all ages will enjoy celebrating wildlife with face painting and hands-on activities. A special guest speaker closes the day's activities at the Shrine of Ages. Celebrate Wildlife Day is your chance to learn and celebrate the wonders of the animal world at the Grand Canyon. For more information visit www.nps.gov/grca Mark your calendars and I know you're going to have a great day.

Ranger Lori Rome: Hi, I'm Ranger Lori Rome inviting you to the 2010 Celebrate Wildlife Day Event on the South Rim at Grand Canyon. This year the event is Saturday May 1st and the special guest speaker is Chris Parrish of the Peregrine Fund talking about the amazing California condor recovery program. See you there!
