

Red Shouldered Hawk

(Buteo lineatus)

- Red-Shouldered Hawks return to the same nesting territory year after year, and both the males and females help each other build or rebuild a nest
- They love to eat small mammals, lizards, snakes, and amphibians
- They hunt by sitting high above and silently watching their prey

- Size: Medium
- Color: Orangish/Red

