

◆ What

Hampton National Historic Site, a unit of the National Park Service, shares the story of people-- enslaved African-Americans, indentured servants, industrial and agricultural workers, and owners. It is also the story of the economic and moral changes that made this kind of life obsolete. In partnership with Historic Hampton Inc. and Goucher College, Hampton NHS strives to promote scholarship and discussion of African-American history with a special emphasis on the Mid-Atlantic. The theme for our fourth annual symposium is "Sifting Through Slavery: Archaeology and Interpretation of Agricultural and Industrial Slavery in the Mid-Atlantic".
