Haunani's Aloha Expressions is comprised of an all Hawaiian performing group of kāne and wāhine kūpuna, elders ranging in ages from 70 to over 90 years old. These men and women also belong to the Alu Like Kupuna Program, meeting on a regular basis. For many years, on their own time, they continue to volunteer to welcome malihini, visitors on in-coming cruise liners and at the Hilo airport to share the aloha spirit. The kūpuna also entertain on a regular basis for the patients at the Life Care Center of Hilo, Hale 'Anuenue, Extended Care, Hawai'i Island Adult Day Care, Aunty Sally Kaleohano Lū'au House Senior Program and more. They won overall at the Kupuna Hula Festival with the song, Tutu E. They also won the Moku o Keawe competition on numerous occasions. They make all of their own colorful costumes and lei, singing and dancing hapa-haole hula and have performed at the park's annual cultural festival on numerous occasions.
