The Heritage Documentation Programs division of the National Park Service, in collaboration with the National Council for Preservation Education, seeks applications from qualified students and recent graduates for summer employment documenting historic sites and structures of architectural, landscape and technological significance throughout the United States. Duties involve on-site fieldwork and preparation of historical reports or measured and interpretive drawings for the HABS/HAER/HALS collection at the Prints and Photographs Division of the Library of Congress. Project duration is twelve weeks, beginning in late May or early June. Salaries range from approximately $8,000 to $12,000 for the summer, depending on job responsibility, location of the project, and level of experience. Please see the above URL for the application process.

The application deadline is March 2, 2020.
