

Archeology Workshop for Teachers

National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior

Hopewell Culture National Historical Park

Two thousand years ago life along the Scioto River was much different than today...or was it? Hopewell Culture National Historical Park invites teachers to learn about the techniques of archeology and the people of the ancient Hopewell culture. Why they built miles of earthen walls in the shapes of circles, squares, and octagons is one of North America's greatest mysteries. That they did it all by hand is simply amazing! These and many other interesting topics are covered during the one-week workshop.

Location

Mound City Group
Chillicothe, Ohio

Dates

June 15-19, 2009
Monday-Friday 8:30 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

Workshop Activities

- Participate in classroom discussions about Ohio's human past, archeology basics, and teaching the past
- Do archeology including excavation and mapping
- Tour local archeology sites

Important Information

- Workshop open to school teachers of all grades
- Cost is free
- No lodging available
- Certificate for 35 contact hours from Ohio University-Chillicothe awarded at workshop
- Workshop limited to 10 participants

Registration

Send registration form to:

Fax: 740-774-1140
Email: jennifer\_pederson@nps.gov
Mail: Hopewell Culture National Historical Park
16062 State Route 104
Chillicothe, Ohio 45601

Additional Information

For more information, contact Jennifer Pederson at jennifer\_pederson@nps.gov or 740-774-1126.

---

Hopewell Culture National Historical Park
16062 State Route 104 Chillicothe, Ohio 45601
www.nps.gov/hocu