

Roosevelt-Vanderbilt

National Historic Sites

Home of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Top Cottage
Eleanor Roosevelt's Val-Kill
Vanderbilt Mansion

National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior

Community Photography Workshops

National Park Service Community Photography Workshops Winter Solstice Sunset Photography Workshop

Presented by

Hudson Valley Landscape Photographer Greg Miller

The Home of Franklin D. Roosevelt

National Historic Site
Hyde Park, New York

Saturday December 21st 3:00pm-6:00pm

Free and open to the public

Free viewing of the new exhibits in the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library and Museum following photography workshop

Photograph Greg Miller

Join Hudson Valley Landscape Photographer Greg Miller for a unique photography experience on the bluffs of The Home of Franklin D. Roosevelt National Historic Site, overlooking the majestic Hudson River Valley.

Learn why the Winter Solstice is a perfect time to photograph the Shawangunk and Catskill Mountains, gain insight into making compelling artistic landscape images, learn the many ways to approach landscape photography.

Greg's love of Nature and the Hudson River Valley has established him as premier photographer for Scenic Hudson, Audubon New York, Appalachian Mountain Club, Earth River Expeditions and Hudson Valley Magazine.

Greg leads private photography workshops and workshops for organizations such as the Center for Photography at Woodstock, New York, the Adirondack Photography Institute, Olana, New York State Historic Site and the National Park Service, Community Photography Workshops.

Be part of this once a year photo opportunity, see the Roosevelt Estate in a different light, support your National Historic Sites in an artistic manner.

Please park in the Henry A. Wallace Visitor and Education Center parking lot, gather in the lobby of the Wallace Center.
Dress warm and bring a flashlight, tri-pod and camera shutter release, highly recommended.

Information
historichydepark.org
Bill_Urbin@nps.gov Bill Urbin 845-229-2006

Cancellation information
845-229-9115 Ex.2010