

Portrait Gallery Exhibit Reopens

VISIT THE SECOND BANK OF THE UNITED STATES... and see where architecture, fine art, and economic history meet. The building — a marvel of Greek Revival architecture — and its famed collection of portraits reopens to the public this summer after a 16 month closure. A fire in the building's mechanical system in January 2015 necessitated extensive cleaning and conservation.

The building itself once served as a financial hub for the nation as home to the Second Bank of the U.S. Today, it houses the "People of Independence" exhibit, with over 150 portraits of 18th and 19th century political leaders, military officers, explorers and scientists, including many by noted artist Charles Willson Peale. A number of these portraits once inspired visitors to Peale's Philadelphia Museum, located on the second floor of Independence Hall in the early 1800s.

We invite you to take a moment to marvel at the building's barrel vaulted ceiling, to gaze upon the famous portraits, and to ponder the complexities of the nation's economic history. Families are sure to enjoy a scavenger hunt using the Hidden History clue cards. The Second Bank is open again, and full of interesting stories to discover!

Chartered by Congress in 1816, the Second Bank of the U.S. played a pivotal role in the "bank wars," which pitted President Andrew Jackson against powerful bank president Nicholas Biddle. Step inside to see original portraits of the Founding Fathers.

Welcome to the "Best Park in History"

Welcome to Independence National Historical Park. We are in full swing as we approach the busy summer season in Independence National Historical Park and continue to celebrate the 100th birthday of the National Park Service. I'm pleased to share that we have re-opened the Second Bank Portrait Gallery and are looking forward to seeing you at this wonderful architectural jewel and its art exhibit.

Our actual centennial anniversary is August 25, 2016. We are planning many events surrounding this momentous occasion including a picnic on the Mall with the Friends of INHP, a time capsule, and the dedication of a plaque in honor of Stephen Mather, one of NPS's founders.

We continue to consider ways to bring new audiences to the Park and develop meaningful partnerships. We are excited about the pollinator garden behind the Free Quaker Meeting House that we created with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and local school volunteers. To help engage and create our next generation of park visitors, supporters and advocates, our Every Kid in a Park initiative continues to provide an opportunity for 4th graders and their families to experience their federal public lands and waters in person throughout the year.

Please stop by the Independence Visitor Center to learn more about our events, programs and tours. You can also visit us online and on social media or download our mobile app. And #FindYourPark when you do visit!

Every Kid in a Park

CALLING ALL 4TH GRADERS! Did you know that you can see America's natural wonders and historic sites for free? You and your family get free access to hundreds of parks for an entire year with the Every Kid in a Park pass.

To help inspire future generations of park visitors, the White House, in partnership with the Federal Land Management agencies, launched the Every Kid in a Park initiative. The immediate goal is to provide an opportunity for each and every 4th grade student across the country to experience their national parks in person with their families throughout the 2015-2016 school year. Visit www.everykidinapark.gov for more details.

The Every Kid in a Park pass opens doors to learning. Parks are great places for families to explore together, and to play together.

Summer Fun

THE HISTORIC DISTRICT IS BUZZING with excitement this summer. Listen to stories at all 13 Once Upon a Nation storytelling benches, or enjoy the new puppet show behind Carpenters' Hall on Saturdays. Want to practice your hoop rolling skills? You can do that at the Colonial Stations offered in cooperation with Historic Philadelphia Inc. See page 7 for more information.

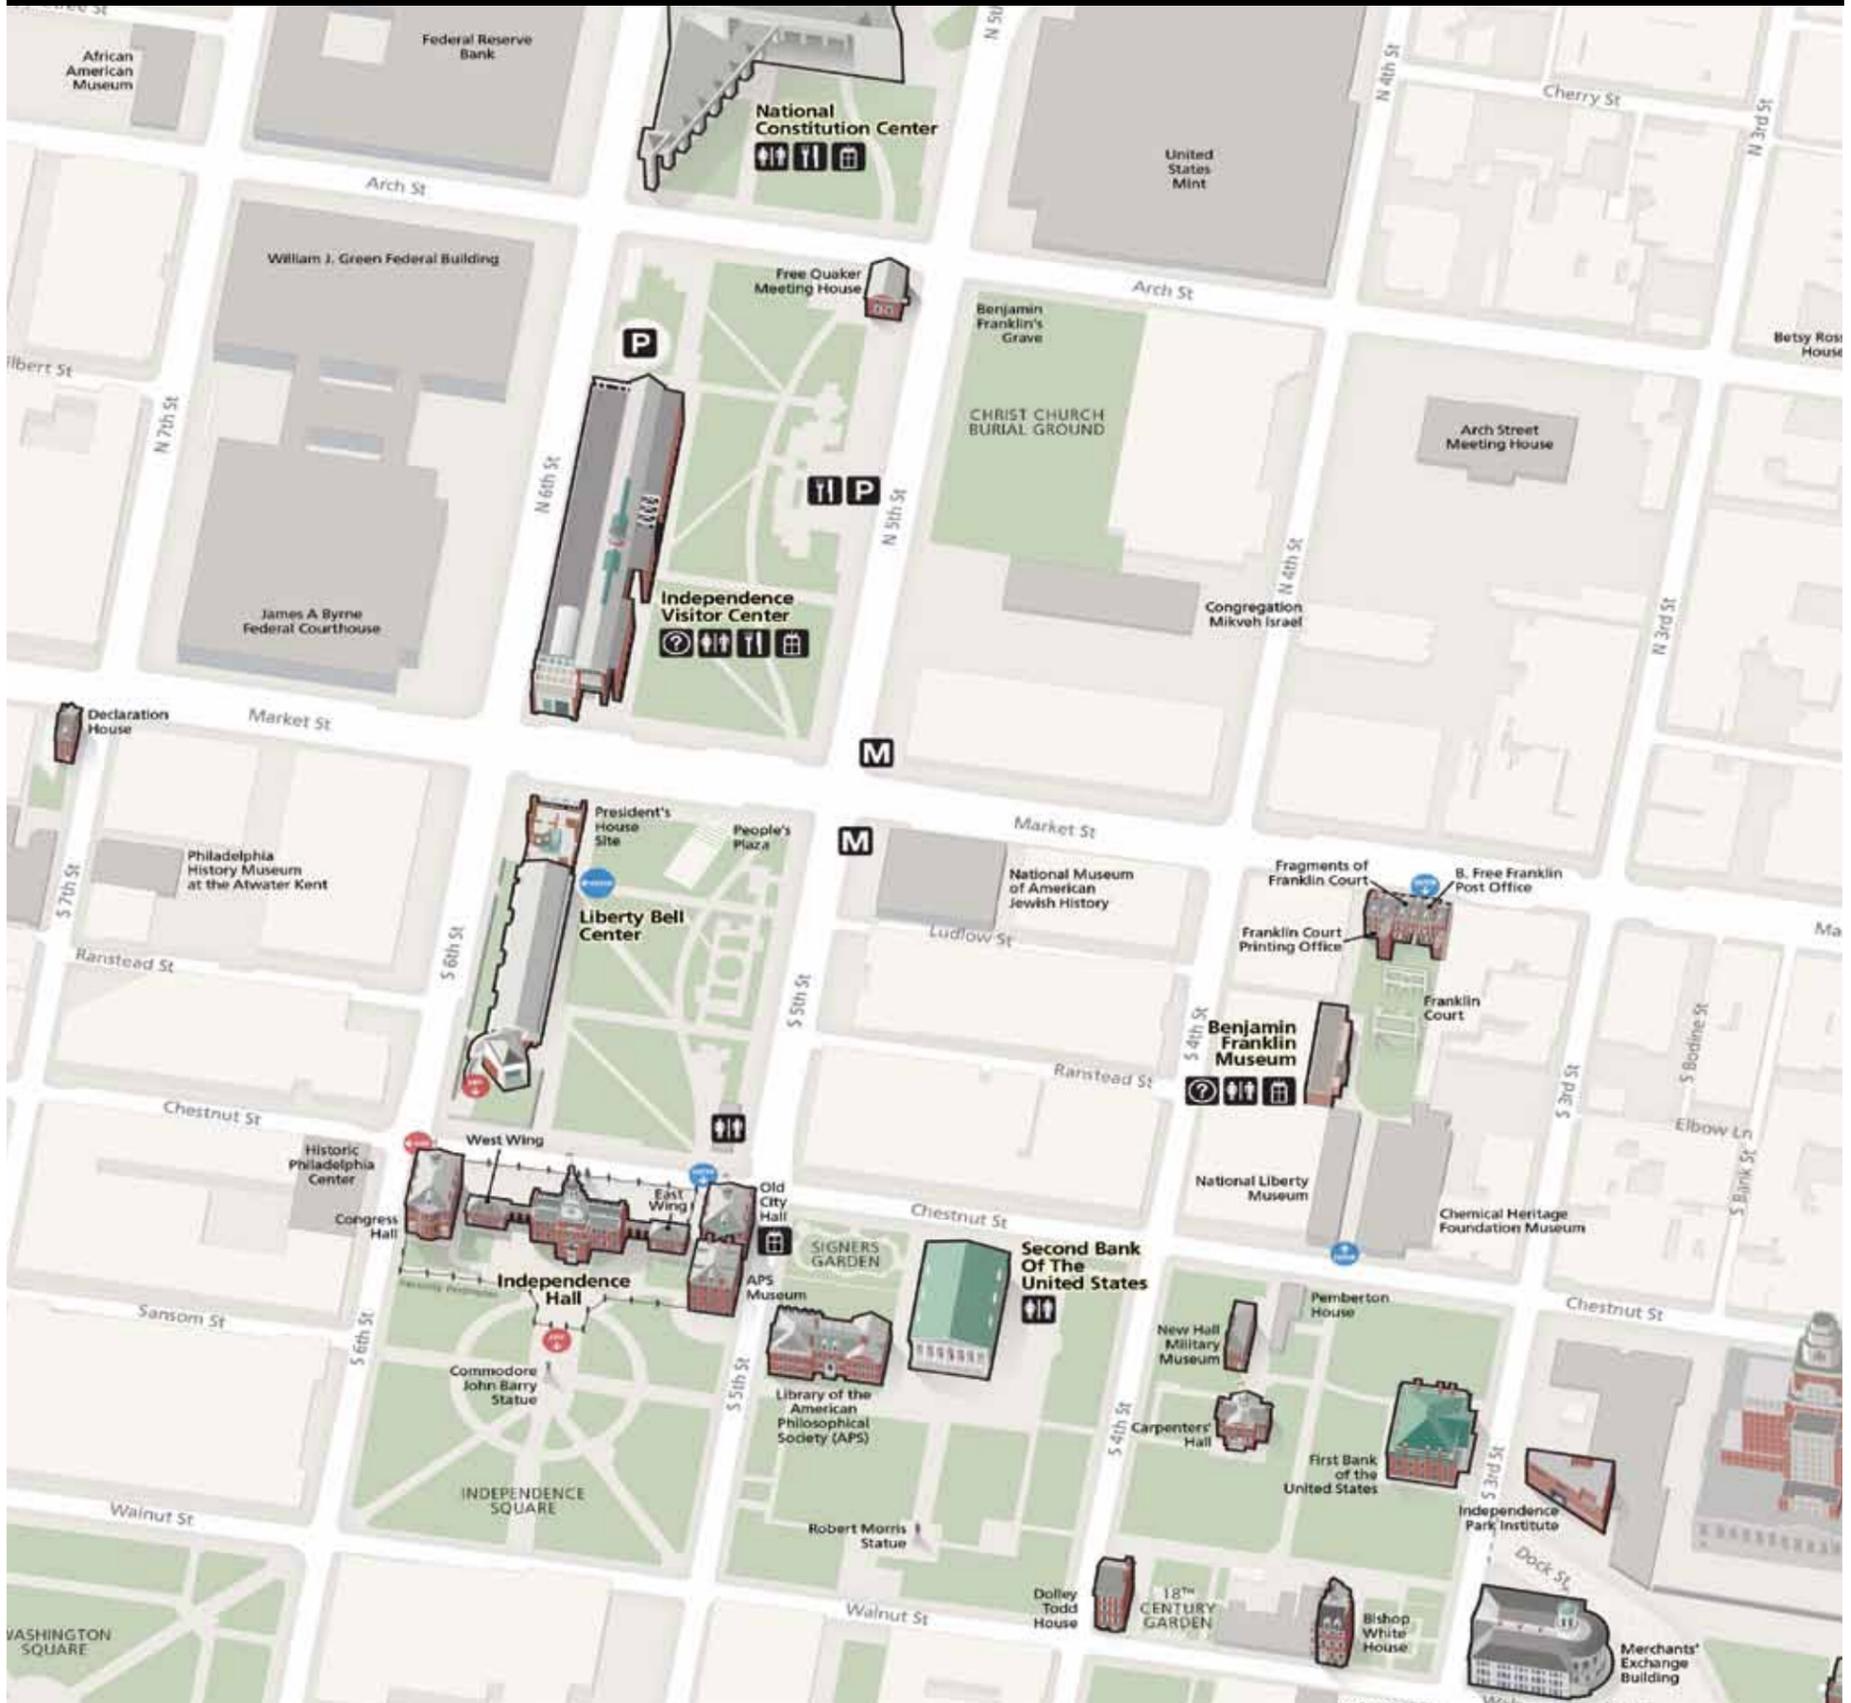

What better time to have fun in a national park than during the National Park Service's 100th birthday? Celebrate with us on Founders Day (August 25) and every other day this summer!

Safety

To help protect park resources and ensure an enjoyable visit for everyone, please follow park rules and posted regulations.

- Pets are not allowed inside public buildings, unless a designated assistive animal. Pets must be kept on a leash no longer than 6 feet and under control at all times. Please remember to pick up after your pet and dispose of waste in a trash bin.
- Please dispose of your garbage in trash containers or take it with you when you leave.
- Bicycles are not allowed on park sidewalks and pathways.
- Security checkpoint screening is required for entrance to Independence Square buildings and the Liberty Bell Center.

Accessibility

The park strives to provide access to all our facilities and programs for the broadest possible range of visitors. Due to the historic nature of many sites, access for wheelchairs or other physical challenges cannot always be accommodated. Please ask a park ranger before entering a building to learn what resources are available. Look for signage that indicates services provided for the hearing-impaired and audio description. All park films are open captioned.

Independence Visitor Center

Open daily 8:30am - 7:00pm, 'til 8:00pm July 1-4

- Indoor and outdoor cafés

Enjoy a beautiful outdoor dining experience in the heart of America's Most Historic Square Mile. Simple American cuisine paired with handcrafted beers and savory wines are the perfect complement to a day of sightseeing. Open daily, 11am - 5pm.

Follow @PHLVisitorCntr, the Visitor Center's virtual concierge service on Twitter. For more information, call 215-965-7676 or visit PHLvisitorcenter.com.

Enjoy lunch at the Independence Mall Café.

Independence Hall

Open daily 9:00am - 7:00pm, 'til 8:00pm July 1-4

Stand inside the birthplace of the nation. See the room where the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution were debated and signed.

Ranger-guided tours begin every 15 minutes. Free tickets are available on the day of your visit at the ranger desk in the Independence Visitor Center. Tickets run out early during the busy summer months so plan ahead. Tickets may also be reserved in advance online at recreation.gov, or by calling 877-444-6777.

Note: Visitors must arrive at least 30 minutes prior to tour time to pass through on-site security screening. Security screening closes at 6:45pm (closes at 7:45 from July 1-4)

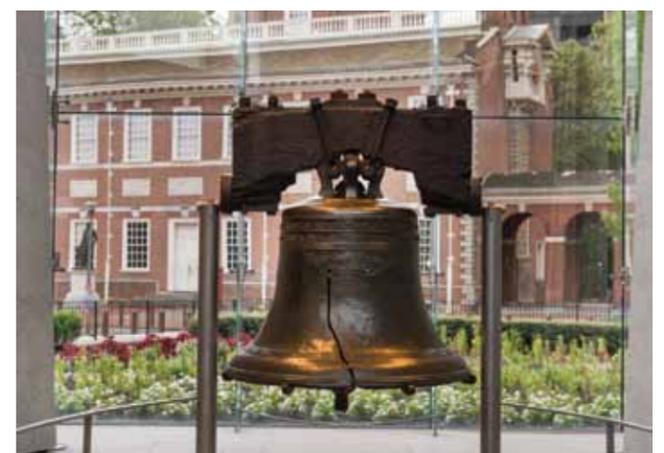

Liberty Bell Center

Open daily 9:00am - 7:00pm, 'til 8:00pm July 1-4

Come see the international symbol of freedom in all its glory. Learn about the Liberty Bell's legacy as a symbol of protest and celebration, from its humble beginnings as the State House bell to its use as a rallying cry to end slavery and an inspiration to the modern civil rights movement.

Note: On-site security screening before entry. Screening closes 5 minutes before the building closes for the evening.

National Constitution Center

Open 9:30am - 5:00pm Monday thru Saturday;
12N - 5:00pm Sundays

The Museum of We the People, America's Town Hall, and a headquarters for Civic Education, the National Constitution Center inspires active citizenship as the only place where people across America and around the world can come together to celebrate the greatest vision of human freedom in history, the U.S. Constitution. The Center brings the Constitution to life for visitors of all ages through interactive exhibits, theatrical performances, and historic documents.

Congress Hall

Open 9-5 daily
Tours begin every 20 minutes

Walk the halls of Congress and see the chambers where the first House of Representatives and Senate of the United States met and debated during those formative years. Hear the stories of conflict and compromise as elected officials struggled to interpret the true meaning of the U.S. Constitution.

West Wing

Open 9-5 daily

The “Great Essentials” exhibit contains some of our nation’s most celebrated documents — original printed copies of the Declaration of Independence, the Articles of Confederation, and the Constitution of the United States. Also on display is the silver Syng inkstand, believed to be the one used by the signers in the cause of independence.

Old City Hall

Open 9-5 daily

This building, completed in 1791, once served as City Hall for the city of Philadelphia. During the early years, the courtroom was used by the U.S. Supreme Court to hear cases that tested the interpretation of our Constitution. City Council met on the second floor while court convened below.

Declaration House

Open 12N-5 daily

Thomas Jefferson resided here while drafting the Declaration of Independence. In rented rooms on the second floor, Jefferson wrote his timeless defense of “life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness,” and all the while attended by an enslaved servant. The original house was demolished in 1883 and reconstructed by the NPS in 1975.

The President’s House: Freedom and Slavery in the Making of a New Nation

Open 7am-10pm daily

George Washington and John Adams both lived at this site while serving as President of the United States. Washington’s household included numerous indentured and enslaved servants. Adams, in contrast, never owned slaves and employed a small staff. These outdoor exhibits examine the paradox between slavery and freedom in the founding of our nation, in a place right next door to the Liberty Bell itself.

Second Bank of the United States (Portrait Gallery)

Open 11-5 daily

Chartered by Congress in 1816, the Second Bank played a pivotal role in the “bank wars” which pitted President Andrew Jackson against bank president Nicholas Biddle. Designed by William Strickland, this marvel of Greek Revival architecture houses a permanent collection of over 150 portraits of famous men and women by such noted artists as Charles Willson Peale and Thomas Sully.

Benjamin Franklin Museum

Open 9-7 daily

Explore the life and legacy of one of Philadelphia’s most famous sons. This underground museum displays historical objects, animated videos, and computer interactives that allow visitors to learn about Benjamin Franklin through his life-long interests in science, philanthropy, business, and politics. The exhibits reveal interesting aspects of Franklin’s character and try to explain his continued popularity and relevancy today.

Free admission on 8/25 - 8/28*

Franklin Court Printing Office

Open 10-5 daily

As a printer himself, Benjamin Franklin understood the power of the press. Visitors can see first-hand how an 18th century printing office operated and discover the pivotal role that the printed word played in the American Revolution and the founding of the nation. Adjacent to the printing office is the newspaper office of Franklin’s grandson, Benjamin Franklin Bache.
