²⁰ “A Sheriff's Sale in St. Louis - On Friday, June 6, 1862, the sheriff of St. Louis county, in obedience to a writ to him directed, offered at public outcry at the door of the Court House, and sold to the highest bidder, the following chattels, at the price named:

Jane, the mother, aged 45 years $300
Sue, the daughter, aged 19 years $485
Missouri, the "baby", aged 6 years $175.

They were sold to different purchasers. One who saw them says they were all bright, smart-looking persons of color. The scene at severing the child from the mother and sister was most painful.”
