What JFK means to me

By Emily Snyder

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to live in a big family and a small house? Well John fitzgerald Kennedy experienced it! What you are about to hear about is J.F.K.'s life with his family. For example he often fought with his older brother Joe. you will learn alot more about a lot of highlights of John fitzgerald Kennedy's childhood! I hope you like my Essay!

In J.F.K.'s family there were a lot of people! His sister (Rosemary who had a mental disability) Helped him realize that everyone is different! His brother (Joe. Jr.) helped him find his hobby, Swimming! He was very good at it! His parents (Rose + Joseph kennedy) traught him how to be tough! Really tough! J.F.K.'s family helped him do so many wonderful things!

J.F.K. was the 2nd Oldest! He was expected to be the role model! But sometimes it was another story! He did not always do good in school until he was older! He did not want to go to church every single day, and Sometimes when he was not supposed to he was Silly and funny! J.F.K. was not always the best role model!

J.F.K. was very competitive with his older brother. All of the kennedys were very competitive! Their father did not allow losers in his house. J.F.K. learned from his father that losing is not ok. For example Joe and Jack were playing chicken, chicken is where on your bike and you zoom around the block, The first person who gets there first wins, the 2nd person loses and gets a stern talking to by there father. Well the kennedys did not realize that this could be dangerous. Joe and Jack crashed, Joe was perfectly fine. Jack on the other hand. Jack said that it was not fair because he had gotten hurt and that he should win. He got 28 stitches. ow. Like one time I was playing 4k: hall and my finger sliced against the metal, I got 15 stitches! The Kennedys were a pretty competitive family!

J.F.K. was often sick. When he was sick he liked to read. Reading books helped J.F.K. learn! When I am sick I would probably just sit on the couch and watch TV!

J.F.K. proudly read a whole encyclopedia! Maybe even 2! when J.F.K. was sick he learned a lot of wonderful things!

J.F.K. had a really big, competitive and smart family! They were always there for each other!! J.F.K. was a lucky, lucky man! J.F.K.'s family was very helpful for him to build the confidence he needed to become such a successful president! Thats why we remember him today!!!
