

A Very Important Man

---

JFK was as mischievous as a kid sneaking candy.
His family taught him to be on time and to play to win.
JFK taught us to follow our dreams, use our imaginations,
and to think for ourselves.

He is as courageous as Rosa Parks.
He saved a man's life after a Japanese destroyer split his PT-109 boat in half in World War II.
He taught us not to take the easy path,
take the path that helps others.

JFK was as thoughtful as a 3A student reading a book
to a kindergartner who can't read.
JFK started the Peace Corps which helps others around the world.
JFK taught us to help others in need of help.

JFK was as determined as a seed trying to grow.
He wanted to send a man to the moon
before the Soviet Union, and he did!
If you really want something you should try until you succeed.

JFK was as caring as a doctor.
He worked with Martin Luther King to stop segregation.
JFK taught us to care about other people – no matter what color their skin is.

JFK was as imaginative as an artist.
He imagined the Peace Corps which helped many people.
He also imagined a man on the moon,
and black and white people together.
He taught us to try to accomplish what we imagine.
Imagining helps the world.
