

What JFK means to me

by: Sophie Harris

John F. Kennedy was a very good man and a very good hero.

He was the 35th President, the youngest president, and the first Roman Catholic. I think he was successful because he was a hero, he was courageous, and he was brave.

|| He was a hero in many ways but 3 ways I remember him as a hero is saving a very badly burned crew member on his ship the PT-109 when a Japanese destroyer cut their ship in half. Another way he was a hero was when he stopped Russia when they put nuclear missiles in Cuba about to hit Florida any second. Lastly he was a hero when he helped Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. stop segregation.

JFK was a very good man and he inspired all of us, but he especially inspired me. And even though he is gone

he is still in our hearts.
