

JFK: The True American Hero

JFK was as challenged as a slave following the Underground Railroad.
He was challenged by sicknesses, his parents and siblings like Joe, Jr.
JFK teaches us that no matter how hard things seem, never stop trying.

JFK was as daring as a dolphin jumping through a ring of fire.
JFK took on his bigger, stronger brother in a bike race and didn't swerve!
He had to get 28 stitches!
JFK teaches us that you shouldn't make decisions quickly give yourself time to think.

JFK was as heroic as a firefighter battling a burning house to save a person's life.
As a navy commander he saved a person and swam for four miles with someone on his back.
JFK teaches us not to leave a man or woman behind when facing a challenge.

JFK was as helpful as a doctor fixing a broken leg.
He helped people in other countries who were sick, hungry or homeless.
JFK teaches us to think about other people.

JFK was as smart as Benjamin Franklin discovering electricity.
During the Cuban Missile Crisis, he convinced Russia to remove the nuclear weapons from Cuba.
JFK teaches us to think before we act.

JFK was as brave as a lion defending his cubs.
He fought for the rights of Martin Luther King and others.
JFK teaches us that no matter what skin color we have, we should treat other people equally.
