Superintendent's Compendium
Of Designations, Closures, Permit Requirements and Other Restrictions Imposed Under Discretionary Authority.

Approved:
Kathy Billings 2/28/13
Kathy Billings, Superintendent

In accordance with regulations and the delegated authority provided in Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations ("36 CFR"), Chapter 1, Parts 1-7, authorized by Title 16 United States Code, Section 3, the following provisions apply to all lands and waters administered by the National Park Service within the boundaries of Kaloko-Honokohau National Historical Park. Unless otherwise stated, these regulatory provisions apply in addition to the requirements contained in 36 CFR, Chapter 1, Parts 1-7.

Written determinations, which explain the reasoning behind the Superintendent's use of discretionary authority as required by Section 1.5(c), appear in this document identified by italicized print.

I. 36 CFR §1.5 – VISITING HOURS, PUBLIC USE LIMITS, CLOSURES, AND AREA DESIGNATIONS FOR SPECIFIC USE OR ACTIVITIES

(a)(1) The following visiting hours and public use limits are established for all or for the listed portions of the park, and the following closures are established for all or a portion of the park to all public use or to a certain use or activity:

Visiting Hours:

Vehicle access to Kaloko Fishpond area via Kaloko Fishpond Road (Ala Nui Kaloko):
The Kaloko Fishpond Road and the Kaloko Fishpond area are closed to vehicles between 1700 – 0800 (5:00 pm to 8:00 am) daily. Hikers and cyclists are not restricted to these hours.

Vehicle access to Hale Ho`okipa Visitor Center parking area:
The Visitor Center parking area is closed to vehicles between 1600 – 0800 (4:00 pm to 8:00 am) daily. Hikers and cyclists are not restricted to these hours.

Since overnight use and camping is prohibited in the park, and both areas are closed by gates, there is no reason for a vehicle to remain in the park overnight.

Public Use Limits:

Gatherings or picnics: Visitor groups of more than 25 people who wish to gather or picnic in the park must obtain a permit. Groups with more than 25 people are restricted to the Kaloko Fishpond picnic area and Ai'opio beach between the canoe halau and the Maliu Point Resource Area. See attached map.

As there are limited park areas which can accommodate a group of this size, while protecting resources and minimizing the impact of a large group on other visitors, a permit is necessary to manage the activity. The designated areas are suitable for large groups because impacts to natural and cultural resources are reduced in these areas.

Weddings are limited to a maximum group size of 50 people.

Wedding parties of more than 50 people detract from the cultural values of the park and interfere with other visitors' ability to view and access the shoreline, and natural and cultural features.

Closures:

Hawaiian Stilt Foraging Area: A portion of the shoreline of Kaloko Fishpond and adjacent uplands between the Kaloko Fishpond wall and the Cultural Resource management storage area is closed to public entry in order to protect the foraging habitat of endangered Hawaiian stilts. This area is delineated by signs. See attached map.

This closure is necessary to protect the birds from human disturbance while they are foraging and loafing (resting). The Hawaiian stilt is listed as an endangered species under the Federal Endangered Species Act. Human activity such as fishing, walking and picnicking in this area disturbs the birds, resulting in disruption to necessary foraging and loafing behaviors.

Hiking 2.1(b) Hiking or other pedestrian use is restricted to the designated and maintained trails listed below. Off-trail pedestrian use is prohibited except that walking along park shorelines is permitted.

Trails as named on Wayside Exhibits	Trails as named on Official Park Brochure
Ala Hue Hue	Ala Hele Hu`e Hu`e
Ala Mauka Makai	Ala Hele Ike Hawaii
Ala Kahakai	Ala Hele Kahakai
Ala Kahakai	Ala Hele Kahiko
Ala Kahakai	Ala Hele Ki`i Pohaku
Mamalahoa	Ala Hele Mamalahoa

Archeological sites and features in the park are comprised of dry-stack (no mortar) stone work, loose stone work, pits, soft-lava trails, or loose midden material that may be difficult for the untrained eye to see and which are easily disturbed or damaged by off-trail pedestrian use. Due to the arid environment many native plants within the Park are small and have thin, shallow root material that is easily damaged and/or dislodged when tread upon.

Fishing 2.3 (c)

- Aimakapa Fishpond is closed to all fishing.
- Fishing is prohibited in all anchialine pools.
- Kaloko Fishpond is closed to fishing by any means except by use of fishing pole.

Fishing is prohibited in Aimakapa Fishpond to prevent interference with breeding and foraging activities of the endangered Hawaiian coot, and to prevent disturbance of endangered Hawaiian stilts and migratory waterfowl.

Fishing is prohibited in anchialine pools to prevent disturbance and contamination of these fragile ecosystems and to protect populations of endemic shrimp.

Use of throw net, lay net, fish trap or scoop net fishing, spear and other collecting are not allowed in Kaloko Fishpond because these methods requires entry into the water which is prohibited by 36 CFR 3.16 to protect the resources and cultural values of the pond.

Camping 2.10(a)
Camping is not permitted within the Park.

Due to the park's relatively small size, fragile resources, widespread distribution of cultural resources, and lack of overnight staff, overnight use is not authorized. There are many other public lands nearby which offer camping opportunities.

Picnicking 2.11
Picnicking is not allowed in the Maliu Point Resource Area. See attached map.

This is a traditionally sacred area with many cultural features. Picnicking detracts from the cultural Hawaiian values of this area.

Boating (Motorized)
Kaloko Fishpond is closed to the operation of all motorized vessels (combustion or electric).

Kaloko fishpond is an important wetland habitat for the federally listed endangered Hawaiian stilt. Motorized vessels are prohibited to minimize disturbance to foraging birds. Kaloko is a unique example of a traditional Hawaiian fishpond and is an archeological and cultural resource. Recreational motorized boating will interfere with the interpretation and appreciation of the cultural values of the fishpond.

Boating (Non-motorized)
Kaloko Fishpond and Aimakapa Fishpond are closed to the operation of all non-motorized vessels.

Aimakapa fishpond is an important wetland habitat for two federally protected endangered birds, the Hawaiian stilt and the Hawaiian coot, and for migratory waterfowl. Non-motorized vessels are prohibited to minimize disturbance to endangered birds per the Endangered Species Act and Migratory Bird Protection Act

Kaloko fishpond is important habitat for the endangered Hawaiian stilt. Recreational use in either pond would interfere with the birds' natural behaviors, including breeding, foraging, and loafing. Both ponds are important archeological and cultural sites' and vessels interfere with the interpretation and appreciation of traditional Hawaiian use of the fishponds.

Stand up paddleboards
Kaloko Fishpond and Aimakapa Fishpond are closed to the use of stand up paddleboards.

Aimakapa Fishpond is an important wetland habitat for two federally protected endangered birds, the Hawaiian stilt and the Hawaiian coot and for migratory waterfowl. Stand up paddleboards are prohibited to minimize disturbance to endangered birds per the Endangered Species Act and Migratory Bird Treaty Act.

Kaloko Fishpond is important habitat for the endangered Hawaiian stilt. Recreational use in either pond interferes with the birds' natural behaviors, including breeding, foraging, and loafing. The pond is an important archeological and cultural site and stand up paddleboards interfere with the interpretation and appreciation of traditional Hawaiian use of the fishpond.

Swimming 3.16
- Swimming is not allowed in any anchialine pool.
- Swimming is not allowed in Kaloko or Aimakapa Fishponds.

Anchialine pools are fragile ecosystems which support endemic species. Swimming is prohibited to prevent contamination from sunscreen, body oils or other materials and to prevent disturbance to animals. Anchialine pools are cultural and archeological sites and entering them for swimming may damage historically significant features.

Aimakapa fishpond is an important wetland habitat for two federally protected endangered birds, the Hawaiian stilt and the Hawaiian coot, and for migratory waterfowl. Swimming is prohibited to minimize disturbance to endangered birds per the Endangered Species Act and Migratory Bird Treaty Act. Swimming is prohibited to prevent contamination of the water from sunscreen and body oils.

Kaloko Fishpond is important habitat for the endangered Hawaiian stilt. Swimming in the pond would interfere with the birds' natural behaviors, including breeding, foraging, and loafing. Kaloko Fishpond is an important archeological and cultural sites and swimming would interfere with the interpretation and appreciation of traditional Hawaiian use of the fishponds.

Scuba Diving 3.18 (a)
Scuba diving with the use of surface supplied air (SNUBA) is not allowed within the Aiopio Fishtrap. Snorkelling and underwater diving with self-contained (SCUBA) apparatus is allowed.

Aiopio Fish trap is a cultural site. The noise and visual impact of surface supplied air equipment interferes with the interpretation and appreciation of traditional Hawaiian use of the area.

(a)(2) The following areas have been designated for a specific use or activity, under the conditions and/or restrictions as noted:

Weddings
Wedding ceremonies and wedding photography are allowed only in the Ai'opio area, excluding the Maliu Point Resource Area, and at the Kaloko Fishpond Picnic Area. See attached map.

The following restrictions and/or conditions are in effect for the specific uses or activities noted:

Digging /Ground Disturbance
Digging and/or disturbance of sand and soil is not allowed along the park's shoreline.

Kaloko-Honokohau National Historical Park shares its boundaries with the Honokohau Settlement National Historic Landmark (State Historic Preservation Number 50-10-27-4138). Cultural deposits are known to exist throughout the park and digging or ground disturbance is prohibited to protect cultural and archeological features. Archeological sites and features in the park are comprised of dry-stack (no mortar) stone work, loose stone work, pits, soft-lava trails, or loose midden material that may be difficult for the untrained eye to see; therefore, these features may be inadvertently damaged by digging or ground disturbance.

Hammocks are not allowed in the park

Because shade trees are a limited resource, are an attractive place to gather, and hammocks take up a large space among two or more shade trees, to minimize visitor conflicts and afford adequate shade access for all park visitors, hammocks may not be attached to trees. Cords, cables and straps used to suspend hammocks can also cause damage to trees.

Kites or any motorized flying plane or toy are not allowed to be flown along the Honokohau Beach from Ai'opio to Kaloko Fishpond.

Kites or any motorized flying plane or toy may cause disturbance of endangered species including the Hawaiian stilt and Hawaiian coot and also disturb migratory waterfowl. Motorized planes and toys can also create loud noises that interfere with other park visitors' enjoyment of the park.

Balloons are prohibited in the park.

Balloons may disturb endangered species including the Hawaiian stilt and Hawaiian coot. Broken balloons disperse into the ocean and land environments and are inhalation and ingestion hazards to birds and marine mammals.

Tiki torches, candles and lanterns are prohibited in the park.

To protect park resources (trees, grasses, thatched structures) from fire, use of tiki torches or other types of ignited candles or lanterns is prohibited.

Glass food and beverage containers are prohibited.

To protect visitors and wildlife from injury by sharp glass shards, glass containers of any kind and other glass items that can be readily broken are not permitted within the park.

Beach umbrellas, shade tents, canopies, and free-standing tents are prohibited.

The use of these items detracts from the cultural landscape of the area and detracts from the traditional Native Hawaiian cultural values for which the park was established. Digging or disturbing soil to secure structures is not allowed due to the presence of cultural resources in the substrate. Moving rocks to support freestanding tents and umbrellas often disturbs cultural resources; use of rocks from cultural sites is prohibited by 36 CFR 2.1. There are numerous trees along the beach which provide shade and visitors are allowed to sit under the shaded canoe halau.

Recreational game playing which involves throwing or tossing balls, discs or other items is not permitted in the Ai'opio Area. Traditional Hawaiian games provided by the NPS are permitted at Ai'opio.

Recreational games which involve throwing balls or other items may cause disturbance to endangered green sea turtles, endangered birds and migratory waterfowl. The Ai'opio beach has limited space for visitors to sit and throwing/tossing games may disturb park visitors. Recreational game playing with balls or other items detracts from the traditional Hawaiian scene and interferes with the appreciation of the sacred sites at Ai'opio.

Bicycles and Motor Bikes
Bicycles and motorized bikes (scooters, mopeds, etc.) are not allowed on park trails, service roads or beaches or at the Hale Ho'okipa Visitor Center even if they are being pushed and not ridden. Bicycles must be parked at a designated bicycle rack.

Bicycle use on park trails is prohibited by 36 CFR. Prohibiting bicycles from park trails ensures compliance with the regulation. Bicycles leaned against trees or left unattended interfere with the public's access to and enjoyment of the area. Bicycle racks are available at all park entrances.
