

Nucleotide: a molecular unit of a 5 carbon sugar, a phosphate group, and a nitrogenous base. Nucleotides form nucleic acids that serve many functions in cellular activity including transmitting heredity information and controlling cellular functions. DNA and RNA are two nucleic acids responsible for heredity and cellular activity.