Street Elevation, 2004

Period of Significance Considered: 1944-1958

National Register Criteria Considered: A, B, C

Finding: Determined ineligible for listing in the National Register due to:

Criterion A:

There does not appear to be a significant event or pattern of settlement associated with this building.

Criterion B:

No significant individuals were associated with the Harbor Dinner Club during its period of significance.

Criterion C:

The Harbor Dinner Club does not embody distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, the work of a master or possess high artistic value.

Integrity:

The Harbor Dinner Club lacks sufficient historic integrity due to successive additions and the introduction on non-historic materials. Specifically, the one and two story additions, addition of the stone veneer on the primary elevation and the introduction of doors and windows constructed with contemporary materials.
