

Afro-Caribbean Workshop !

Percussionist Jorge Arce with masqueraders

Saturday, February 24, 2012
7:00 pm - 8:30 p.m.
Park Visitor Center Theatre

In honor of Black History Month, the Lowell Folklife Series invites you to an Afro-Caribbean workshop with a hint of Caribbean carnival. Jorge Arce is a percussionist, educator, and native of Ponce, Puerto Rico. This interactive workshop features music, dances, lore, and stories steeped in the African ancestry of Puerto Rican culture.

The workshop will feature over 20 percussion instruments played throughout the Caribbean. A special treat will be two carnival masqueraders wearing typical vejigante masks of the season. Audience members will be guided to join in on rhythm instruments and dances during the show.

Jorge Arce with percussion instruments

FREE EVENT!

Vejigante masquerader. Ponce, Puerto Rico

This program is part of the Lowell Folklife Series and is sponsored by Lowell National Historical Park

For more info visit www.nps.gov/lowe or call Maggie Holtzberg 978-275-1719

